BRITAIN TO ACCEPT U. S. PLAN "IN PRINCIPLE"BALFOUR TO REPLY
'YES' FOR EMPIRE,
ON U. S. PROPOSAL

Certain Modifications in Plan Are Desired by Britain, But Principle Is Approved.

WOULD OUTLAW U-BOAT
FROM WAR ALTOGETHER

While Acceptance At Once by Britain Is Sure, Japanese Answer May Be Delayed.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, November 14.—Great Britain's acceptance "in principle" of the American proposals for limitation of naval armaments as it will be laid before the conference tomorrow, will be based on what are described as "certain definite modifications."

Considered most important among the British is a modification in the program for replacement. Instead of a flat ten-year holiday during which no new ships shall be built, the British have in mind that the replacement program be carried on from year to year and thus keep the shipyards from going to rot, or allow each country a one-ship building plant.

Great Britain's acceptance "in principle" of the American proposals for limitation of naval armaments contemplates an alteration of the plan in several important details.

Ready for Session.

The British acceptance will be presented at tomorrow's plenary session of the conference by Arthur J. Balfour, head of the mission, who has plenipotentiary powers. Japan's acceptance "in principle," although it has been forecast by the statements of Baron Admiral Kato, may be delayed as the Japanese mission is obligated to confer with Tokyo.

Mr. Balfour may not outline the details of the reservations Great Britain wishes to make, but they are substantially described this way:

Instead of a flat ten years' holiday, Great Britain wants the replacement program to be an elastic one—spread over a period of years.

Would Outlaw Subs.

Great Britain would like to see the submarine outlawed from naval warfare; failing this, she wants to see their tonnage and equipment distinctly limited. She feels that the submarine fleets allowed by the American program are too great; she has never had so large a submarine fleet as the proposals would allow her.

The United States, Great Britain feels, would have her at an advantage in airplane carrying ships, under the terms of the American proposals, because while Great Britain has an equipment of these craft, the United States would have to buy new the number allotted. They would be of later design and of superior improvement, while the British ships would be obsolete.

On Shipbuilding.

Great Britain wants the replacement program spread over a period of years, because British naval experts argue, the program could be carried on with a very small equipment of building plant at a small scale, probably a ship at a time. If a flat ten-year holiday were to be declared, they say, the facilities for making a wholesale replacement at the end of ten years would have to be kept in organization, and although great fleets of warships might be consigned to the junk pile, the facilities for producing them still would exist.

Such a program, the British naval experts say, does not go to the root of the question. Therefore, they will propose that, for instance, a one-ship

OF DRUID HILLS;
FRASER RETURNED

At Final Session of Conference Full List of Pastors and Their Assignments Is Read.

FEW CHANGES MADE IN ATLANTA CHURCHES

S. R. Belk Returned to Trinity—E. F. Dempsey Becomes Secretary of Education.

BY DR. THOMAS M. ELLIOTT.

Augusta, Ga., November 14.—(Special.)—In the new appointments announced Monday night at the closing session of the North Georgia Methodist conference, the two Atlanta districts have fewer changes than any of the districts in the entire territory. Most of the Methodist congregations in Atlanta will have their former pastors for the coming year.

Dr. W. H. LaFayette, Jr., and Dr. J. H. Eakes are returned as presiding elders of the north and south Atlanta districts, respectively. There are no changes made at Trinity, First, St. Mark, St. Paul and St. Luke churches.

Rev. A. F. Nunn is assigned to Center Street church and Rev. A. F. Pierce is given Druid Hills church, going there from Griffin, where he is succeeded by Dr. J. E. Dickey.

Rogers at Rome.

Dr. Wallace Rogers, who has been at Druid Hills, goes to First church, Rome, succeeding Dr. E. F. Deupuy, who will go to Atlanta as conference educational secretary, succeeding Dr. Dickey.

Rev. A. G. Shankle is assigned to Grace church, succeeding Rev. Marvin Williams, who goes to St. James'.

THREE INDICTED FOR KIDNAPING

Charged Pretty Macon Girl Was Brought to This City With Two Atlanta Women.

Macon, Ga., November 14.—(Special.)—An indictment charging kidnapping was returned by the Bibb county grand jury today against Walter D. Overcash, Adam E. Smith and Alvin Yarbrough and Thomas W. McDonald D. Overcash was also indicted for violating the prohibition law.

The kidnapping episode is the outcome of a automobile ride about three weeks ago in which Miss Oline Vinson, pretty 16-year-old girl, became the central figure when she related the incidents of the alleged abduction. Mrs. Gladys Campbell and Mrs. Esther Self, both of Atlanta, were the other two women in the case.

Smith, Yarbrough and McDonald are said to have carried the girls to Atlanta in the automobile belonging to Overcash.

A commitment hearing held in the case of McDonald, who since has been married, resulted in his being freed by a justice of the peace, but he was immediately re-arrested on a warrant taken by Solicitor Garrett.

STORE RANSACKED

Call Officers Go to Scene and Make Investigation, But No Trace of Negroes Is Found.

W. P. Hilderbrand, proprietor of a grocery store at 97 Williams street, was shot seriously in his right arm by a negro bandit shortly after 6 o'clock Monday night, when he attempted to resist the robbery of his store by two negroes.

The negroes entered the store and forced Hilderbrand to hold up his hands. One of the negroes then proceeded to rifle the cash register, whereupon Hilderbrand made a move towards the negro with the gun and was shot. Besides emptying the cash register the negroes also ransacked the store.

Hilderbrand was shot in the right arm between the elbow and wrist and at the Georgia Baptist hospital his wound was said to be serious. Call Officers L. P. Cady and W. E. Bullard made an investigation but the negroes had disappeared when the officers came on the scene. Plain Clothesmen Tyson and Mosley, with a good description of the negroes, are on the case.

LOT ON PEACHTREE
BRINGS $120,000

Senator James D. Weaver, the Purchaser, Plans Erection of Two Stores, With Garage in Rear.

For improvement by erection of mercantile buildings, 402 Peachtree street, the old Wright home, valued at $120,000, was purchased Monday by Senator James D. Weaver, of Dawson, from Vincent Chelena, through the agency of the M. C. Kiser Real Estate company.

Senator Weaver contemplates the building and erecting two stores, with a garage in the rear.

The purchase of the Wright home was effected through the transfer to Mr. Chelena of titles to property at 121 and 123 Auburn avenue, each valued at $60,000. In making the transfers, Senator Weaver liquidated mortgages upon the Auburn avenue property aggregating $144,000.

Transactions involving in the aggregate $400,000 have been handled for Senator Weaver by C. P. Bird, and later sold to J. H. Hunt, of Gainesville, through the agency of the Kiser company.

Senator Weaver has large property holdings in Atlanta.

IN PROCLAMATION,
HARDING DECLARES
GERMAN WAR OVER

U. S. and Germany Formally at Peace, Proclaims President on Monday Afternoon.

TWO ACTS YET NEEDED FOR COMPLETE PEACE

Must Issue Similar Proclamations in Regard to War With Austria and Hungary.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, November 14.—Peace between the United States and Germany was formally proclaimed today by President Harding.

The president in a proclamation signed at 3:52 p. m. today, declared the state of war between the United States and Germany, existing from April 6, 1917, to have terminated in fact July 2, 1921, when the joint peace resolution of congress was approved by the executive.

Issuance of the proclamation, which followed exchange of ratification of the treaty of Berlin, effected Armistice day in the German capital, was considered the first of a series of three steps which, when completed, will return the United States to a complete peace status.

The second step probably will be the promulgation of a proclamation declaring the war with Austria to have ended, and the third the issuance of a similar proclamation with respect to Hungary. The proclamation dealing with Austria is expected to be signed by the president and issued through the state department within a few days as ratification of the treaty between the United States and Austria was exchanged at Vienna last Tuesday. Ratification between the United States and Hungary are expected to be exchanged within a few days, and the proclamation issued soon afterward.

Must Await Final Step.

Until the third and final step is taken the purposes of the formal proclamations will not be achieved in the opinion of officials. These purposes are stated to be to put an end without doubt to certain war laws unaffected by the congressional resolution of repeal approved last March 3. Notable among these war-time laws are sections of the espionage act, the liberty bond act, and trading with the enemy act. Portions of the last-named statute are preserved, however, through the treaty.

Disposition of the cases of Eugene V. Debs and others convicted of violation of war laws, likewise will await the third and final step. Attorney General Daugherty has prepared an opinion for the president suggesting a method of disposing of the Debs case and, it is understood, proposing definite treatment of the cases of others convicted of similar offenses. This opinion, however, has not yet been presented to the president, and Mr. Daugherty has indicated that there may be last-minute changes before its submission.

Relations Not Affected.

The proclamation issued today has no bearing on the resumption of diplomatic relations between the United States and Germany, state department officials asserting that the exchange of ratifications in itself restored such diplomatic relations. Just when Germany will resume her old diplomatic status in Washington is not known.

Will Cost U. S. Half Billion
To "Scrap" Navy Program

Washington, November 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Actual cost to the United States of the scrapping of the present naval building program, naval officials estimated today, would be between $400,000,000 and $500,000,000 exclusive of any salvage plan that might reduce this total. In his statement to conference on limitation of armament Saturday, presenting the American proposal, Secretary Hughes said the work already done had cost $330,000,000, but these figures do not include costs incident to abandonment of the ships under construction.

Assistant Secretary Roosevelt said today that the American program would save the government about $200,000,000 in naval expenditures. The figure is the difference between the total cost of completion of the ships, about $800,000,000 and what scrapping them all would cost. Included in the scrapping costs are allowances for reimbursement of contractors for work they have been compelled to do in their yards in preparation for the huge craft to be built.

Success of Conference
English Labor Will Demand That Britain Accepts
Rests on Jap Attitude

BY WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE.
(Copyright, 1921, for The Constitution.)

Washington, November 14.—The success of the conference for the limitation of armament depends upon Japan. And two opinions about Japan are holding diplomatic Washington divided evenly. One is that England and America, facing the alternative of a naval holiday or bankruptcy, have combined to invite Japan into the conference to take off her gun. The other opinion is that Japan and England, fearing the superior wealth of the United States would soon give her the supremacy of the sea, lured her into calling the conference, hoping to equalize the naval forces of the three great sea powers.

Both opinions are sheer moonshine—diplomatic mulligrub. Diplomacy has to hatch nightmares that it may dispel them, and thereby furnish a reason for the existence of diplomacy.

England Must Accept.

Still, the hinge of the issue in the present conference turns upon Japan. England must accept. The size of the pacifist labor minority in England is too threatening to permit much parley from England.

Before the conference met, Secretary Hughes talked for three hours with Mr. Balfour, the British leader, and it is inconceivable that they gossiped all that time about the weather. Balfour knew that Hughes was going to fire a bomb. Balfour knew, when he came into the conference, that the bomb

SAPPHIRE IS ASKED TO RESIGN PLACE

Director Dismukes Announces Step Is Taken for "Political Reasons." Republican Will Replace Him.

The resignation of Harry Sapphire, probably the best-known federal prohibition agent in the state, has been requested by Federal Prohibition Agent Frederick Dismukes, it was learned Monday at the federal building.

The action was taken in keeping with the announced policy of the republican administration of replacing all members of the old enforcement organization with republicans wherever men just as efficient could be placed in the service from among the republican ranks.

Director Dismukes admitted Monday afternoon that Sapphire would be replaced merely "for political reasons." He added that there were no charges against the agent, and that as far as he knew Sapphire was a very efficient officer.

Federal departments learned of the action of the new director with surprise, as it had been believed that Sapphire would be retained for several months at least, in view of his remarkable record during his eighteen months' connection with the department.

Sapphire enjoys the distinction of having made or assisted in making upwards of 1,000 whisky and narcotic cases for the government, and never has he lost a case in court. With the exception of one whisky case, which resulted in two mistrials, every case made by the officer has resulted in conviction, and records the district court show that more than 90 per cent of the defendants in cases made by the agent have entered pleas of guilty.

Since taking oath as a prohibition agent, Sapphire has worked the greatest number of cases of any agent in the department.

The Taegliche Rundschau says of the program:

"Despite Quaker help and milk cows it means for us nothing but hypocrisy, lies and dishonesty. Once more this play gets under our skin. It is laughable to see England, America and Japan seeking to save each other from injury, while they are secretly planning later sabotage for the whole program."

The Allgemeine Zeitung sees the prospect of an American and British agreement and says it is certain France will be given a free hand in dealing with Germany.

The Kleuz Zeitung says President Harding's words sound like those of former President Wilson, but that President Harding has a more workable scheme, although it appears the president himself has no exaggerated ideas as to the success of the undertaking.

SECOND SENSATION
AT ARMS PARLEY
EXPECTED TODAY

But Editor of London Times Warns Public of Difficulty on Far East Problems.

GROWING ADMIRATION FOR HUGHES' PROPOSAL

Steed Believes Conference Results Will Correct False Impressions of British in America.

BY WICKHAM STEED.

Editor of The London Times.
(Copyright, 1921, for The Constitution.)

Washington, November 14.—Forty-eight hours' reflection have not decreased admiration on the part of the delegates and of the general public for the grandeur of manner and the greatness of substance of Mr. Hughes' proposals. In these respects unanimity is absolute. On Tuesday, the conference resumes its plenary sessions. Wonder whether Mr. Hughes will follow up his achievement of Saturday with an equally striking outline of policy on Pacific problems is tempered by the reflection that, complicated though the task of limiting armaments may be, it is simple in comparison with the intricacies of the Far Eastern situation.

As indicated in a statement by Admiral Baron Kato on Saturday, Japan might be willing to discuss the limitation of armaments independently of the political issues. This willingness is comprehensible, but it is not regarded as practicable. The two issues are naturally interdependent and inseparable. Mr. Hughes definitely linked them together in his speech on Saturday. But it is an open question whether he will think it expedient to announce the policy of the United States in regard to China and to define the American conception of the integrity of China and Russia, as categorically as he made the suggestions for the limitation of the American, British and Japanese navies.

Expecting Sensations.

At the same time, the American public, which, since Saturday has been standing on the tiptoe of expectation, may be disappointed if the second sitting of the conference fails to produce a sensation approximating in effect to that of the first. While the administration are unlikely to take this public expectancy into account, they may well desire to convince supporters and critics alike of their determination to place the discussion of the Far Eastern problem on a practical basis without delay.

Meanwhile, attention is concentrated.

'BIG FIVE' DECIDE
COMMITTEE PLAN
IS BEST METHOD

Delegates Will Debate All Questions Before Conference in "Committee of the Whole."

DECISION IS REACHED AT MONDAY MEETINGS

First Official Communiqué Is Issued Monday, Giving Results of Two Committee Meetings.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, November 14.—The real work of the armament negotiations was transferred today from the open conference to the more secluded precincts of the committee room.

After a debate which developed widely separated views on the advisability of giving publicity to the negotiations, the big five, comprising the chief delegates of the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, settled on the committee plan as the only acceptable solution.

To one committee, whose membership will be identical with that of the conference itself, was assigned the task of working out a solution for the Far Eastern questions. Another, composed of all the delegates of the five great powers, was created to take over the negotiations on the main topic of armament limitation. Since only the delegates of the five powers are qualified to act on armament limitation in the conference, the result in each case will be to resolve the delegates into a "committee of the whole."

Indicates Secrecy.

Although no official would make a prediction prior to the assembling of the new "committees," the presumption everywhere tonight was that the meetings would be held behind closed doors and that the public would get a glimpse of the proceedings only when, in their capacity as committee members, the delegates have an important decision to report to the conference as a whole.

The committee plan was said to have been agreed to as the most direct method of attack on the problems before the conference, since it would permit greater liberty of confidential expression between representatives of the various governments and would obviate much of the procedure that would be necessary should the sessions continue entirely in the open. Another argument used by those who favored the proposal was that it would facilitate such modifications of program as might be necessary through changes in the personnel of the various delegations and in the diplomatic situation generally confronting the conference.

One result of the decision may be to make tomorrow's open session of the conference the last of those which

HEARINGS SUSPENDED ON PERMANENT TARIFF

Washington, November 14.—The permanent tariff bill, which has been passed by the house and is now under consideration by the senate finance committee, met a further delay tonight when hearings on the measure were suspended upon completion of testimony on the dairy paragraph of the agricultural schedule and the committee adjourned with the plan, it was said, of holding no further meetings before next Monday.

Next week but few meetings were contemplated, it was added, as face committee members, including Chairman Penrose, are attending conferences with the house on the tax bill and others either are engaged in other committee work or are absent from the city.

Representatives of the dairy industry appeared before the committee today with requests for tariff rates on their products higher than those carried in the house bill. They asked for a basis rate of 10 cents a pound on butter with corresponding rates on other dairy products, the average being slightly higher than the house rates.

"BIG TIM" MURPHY IS GIVEN SENTENCE

Chicago, November 14.—"Big Tim" Murphy, former state representative, gang leader, and president of the Gas Workers and Street Sweepers' unions, was sentenced to six years in Leavenworth penitentiary and fined $30,000 by Judge Kenesaw M. Landis today for his part in planning the $360,000 Dearborn station mail robbery here last April.

RED CROSS DRIVE TO CLOSE TODAY

Roll Call for Memberships Will Continue, But Street Solicitation in Atlanta Will Cease.

Determined to exert every effort to assure the continuance of Red Cross service to those in need in Atlanta during the next year through funds obtained by membership fees, Atlanta women workers in the Red Cross roll call planned to make their final day's work their best.

Although the roll call for membership will continue in Atlanta in common with other cities, Tuesday is the last day of intensive street solicitation, according to Mrs. R. K. Rambo, chairman of the women's division of the committee, and in view of this fact generous response is urged by the committee.

Many memberships are expected to be reported from committees working in industries and business houses, many of which have announced their intention of "going over" 100 per cent.

Will Visit Offices.

In addition to the work in the downtown booths, committees of women will visit downtown office buildings and stores, in order to be sure that everyone has had an opportunity to join.

Among those most interested in the outcome of the roll call in Atlanta are many families, some of ex-service men, and some of civilians whom the services of the Red Cross nurses have kept from despair. Visitors to the home service office of the Atlanta chapter, having read that the continuance of the service depended entirely upon the response to the appeal for memberships very anxiously inquired after the response.

"If all Atlanta people knew what I know about what the Red Cross means to me, and to hundreds of others in Atlanta," declared one widow of a soldier who died in France, "there wouldn't be any question of asking people to join, I do believe. They would come here and demand to be enrolled as members."

Scenes of Pathos.

The solicitation for memberships has not been without its pathos, according to women workers. The work of the Red Cross has always been among those who have needed it most, and the attempts of some of those to help the Red Cross in turn has been the cause of more than one problem. At one of the Red Cross booths a very old and feeble woman asked the price of membership and the little button. She was told that memberships were one dollar.

"I haven't enough, then," she said, "to be a member, much as I want to. I have only a quarter. But I'd like to give you that to do all it will to help out. And if I get the rest in time, I'll come back and get the button," and the worker's chief problem was how to give her a button without violating the rule. But she did it.

No quota has been assigned to the Atlanta chapter, other than the need for the Red Cross chapter in Atlanta. During the last year the chapter has been seriously hampered for funds to meet the steadily growing need for service to ex-service men, and to maintain its nursing program.

In Need of Help.

Many ex-soldiers are developing tuberculosis from the effects of gas, results which could not be foreseen upon the discharge of the soldier from the army. Sickness always is more prevalent in the winter, and the coming winter is not expected to be an exception, declared Red Cross officials. Many disabled ex-service men who were able to make their way unassisted during "good business" have lost their jobs, in the keen competition caused by the unemployment situation, all of which tends to make the Red Cross service more necessary now than ever before.

Tech students in the R. O. T. C. unit responded generously to the appeal of a committee from the Washington seminary, announced, headed by Miss Martha Louise Cassels, who asked for memberships Monday afternoon.

Crazed by Trial Details, Reporter Commits Suicide

Versailles, November 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Henri Desire Landru, who is on trial here charged with murder, today assumed the defensive against several of the witnesses, who were cross-examined by him. The prisoner brought out the fact that Mme. Collomb, one of the alleged victims of Landru, her child, a male acquaintance and her cousin, all have disappeared and that the police have not been able to find any trace of them.

"I am not charged with murdering the whole family," declared the prisoner, "yet the police are as helpless in finding them as they are in finding any of my so-called victims."

Landru has signed a contract to appear in a monologue in a local music hall in the event that he is acquitted. He is to receive 2,500 francs weekly for his work.

BURNING STEAMER RACING FOR PORT

New York, November 14.—The steamship San Francisco, Marsilles for New York, which caught fire yesterday about 1,000 miles southeast of New York, was heading for Bermuda today, radio messages from the ship said.

The fire was spreading. It started in the cross bunkers and crept to number two hold.

HARDING RECEIVES REPORT OF PROBE INTO PHILIPPINES

Washington, November 14.—The final draft of the report of the Wood-Fores mission, which investigated conditions in the Philippine Islands, was submitted today to Secretary Weeks and later was laid before President Harding. Mr. Forbes discussed the report with Mr. Weeks and accompanied the secretary to the white house. The report was understood to contain the mission's recommendations relative to Filipino pleas for independence.

BLIND EYE REMOVED FOR SENATOR KELLOGG

Washington, November 14.—Senator Kellogg, of Minnesota, was recovering in a local hospital today from an operation in which his left eye, sightless for several years, was removed.

The operation was advised, it was said, because of the fear that the sight of the other eye, which now is unimpaired, might become affected. The senator today was reported in good condition with prospects for leaving the hospital in a few days.

The number of women's football clubs in England is rapidly increasing.

End the dingy film

The chief purpose is to fight film. This viscous coat, which you can feel, causes dingy teeth and also most tooth troubles.

Film clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. The old ways of brushing did not end it. So film-coats night and day threaten serious damage.

Film is what discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. All these troubles have been constantly increasing. Despite the daily brushing with old methods, very few escaped them.

Now you can fight it

Dental science, after long research, has found ways to fight that film. Able authorities have proved them effective. Now leading dentists everywhere advise their daily use.

The methods are embodied in Pepsodent, the new-day, scientific tooth paste. Millions of people now use it, and the use is fast spreading the world over.

That is the dentifrice we urge you to try. Your druggist has a free tube for you. Enjoy its effects for ten days, then judge them for yourself.

Also starch and acids

Modern diet makes other things essential. And those essentials are embodied in this scientific tooth paste.

Each use of Pepsodent multiplies the salivary flow. That is Nature's great tooth-protecting agent. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is Nature's agent for neutralizing acids which attack the teeth.

Free All This Week

This 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent. Simply present the coupon. This test will prove a delightful revelation. It will show you the way which millions have found to whiter, cleaner, safer teeth. This offer is for one week only. It means much to you and yours. Act now.

An ideal diet would do these same things, but few people get it. So dental science now needs the tooth paste to bring these desired effects.

Pepsodent will daily bring you five great benefits which the old ways did not bring. Together they mean a new era in teeth cleaning.

Men's tobacco stains

Men who smoke stain their teeth with tobacco. The use of Pepsodent brings them conspicuous effects.

Food stains with women make these film-coats dingy. The glistening teeth seen everywhere now show how Pepsodent removes them.

But children need Pepsodent most. Their teeth are most subject to film and starch attacks. Very few escape them. Dentists advise that they use Pepsodent from the time the first tooth appears.

Watch teeth whiten

The results of Pepsodent are quickly seen and felt. No user can long doubt them. A book we send explains the reasons for them. A very short test will convince you that this new way is essential.

Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Watch the other good effects.

Then you will see and feel and know that Pepsodent is necessary. You will realize that old methods were not right. And this discovery may bring life-long benefits both to you and yours. Present this coupon to any dealer named this week. Cut it out now.

10-DAY TUBE FREE

Present this coupon, with your name and address filled in, to any store named. It is good for a 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent.

PLANS DISCUSSED FOR BIG ANNEXES

Discussion of plans announced several months ago by the respective owners to erect extensive annexes to the Hart building, Healey building and the Piedmont hotel, were revived Monday morning at a meeting of the city planning commission.

CHEMIST MAKES IMPROVEMENT IN YEAST TABLET

Chemist, Through New Process, Produces a Yeast Wafer Known as "Yeastose" That Is Delicious in Taste and Will Not Form Stomach Gases.

Yeastose Wafers Contain Other Body-Building Ingredients That Increase Appetite, Weight and Energy, Aid Digestion and Clear Up the Complexion.

The Most Complete Vitamine Product Yet Developed and Fine for Children. A Fifteen-Day Treatment for One Dollar.

Realizing the importance of vitamins to the human body, a chemist and dietitian began years ago to perfect a wafer that would contain all three vitamins, making hundreds of scientific laboratory tests and experiments, finally evolving "Yeastose Wafers," the most complete vitamin product yet produced.

The component parts of Yeastose Wafers are Yeast, Cod Liver Oil, Maltose, Lactose, Saccharose, Orange, Peppermint, Whole Powdered Milk and Hydrochloric Acid. The three vitamins represented by A, B, and C are: A, Cod Liver Oil and Milk; B, Yeast and Maltose; C, Orange and Milk, plus the digestive aid of Hydrochloric Acid. Have you seen any other formula the equal of this?

Any physician will tell you that this formula will give quicker and better results in cases of loss of appetite, weight and energy, due to impaired nutrition, as Yeastose does not rely upon yeast alone for restoring to the body its normal health and vigor.

Yeastose Wafers have a delicious flavor, and by a special process, each yeast cell is sealed, which inactivates the yeast, and positively does away with stomach gases. Its delicious taste, and the absence of gas makes Yeastose Wafers ideal for children as well as grown-ups.

HEAVY MEAT EATERS HAVE SLOW KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat if You Feel Backache or Have Bladder Trouble—Take Glass of Salts.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and uric acid from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of stinging, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—(adv.)

The planning commission session when the question of limiting the height of future buildings in Atlanta to 150 feet, as part of the proposed zoning ordinance, came up for consideration. Both the Hart and Healey buildings exceed this height, and it was suggested that the annexes be made exceptions in the ordinance.

The size of the Hart building would be increased about 125 per cent by the extension, it was stated by Joel Hart, who is a member of the planning commission. Two wings, with an open court between, on the vacant lot adjoining the building on the east, are planned. Bids at figures around $2,000,000 were received some months ago, he said, but the cost of building has materially declined since then.

Enlargement of the Healey building to twice its present size, by the addition of a "twin section," has been discussed. A F. Liebman, representative of the owner, stated Monday that he had no idea when this would be done, and he was not prepared to discuss the probable cost of the work.

The construction of an annex to the Piedmont hotel, on a site north of the present property, is said to be contemplated.

Order of DeMolay To Be Instituted Here in January

Institution of the Atlanta chapter of the Order of DeMolay for Boys has been postponed from November 19 to a date in January, at the request of officers of the national grand council, which is now planning a tour of the south by the degree staff of the Kansas City "mother" chapter, during which four chapters will be instituted in several southern cities, including Atlanta and New Orleans.

The advisory council of Atlanta chapter has received rituals, secret work and ceremonies, and is now planning installation and initiation of members, and members are delighted with their high order and lessons taught to young men who become members.

The Atlanta chapter is being sponsored by the Scottish Rite Masonic bodies of the Valley of Atlanta, which assures the fact that all ideals of the Order of DeMolay will be carried out by members of the order when it is instituted and turned over to young men to carry on by themselves.

Permission has been given to hold installation of the chapter in the Scottish Rite hall in Masonic temple, and it is likely that arrangements will be made to hold all future meetings there, thus insuring the proper atmosphere and surroundings for this wonderful secret order for boys between the ages of 16 and 19.

Application blanks and full information may be secured from any member of the advisory council, whose names follow: Howard Geldert, chairman; Hugh N. Fuller, secretary; Charles E. Roberts, Kenneth Weisger, Arthur J. Stitt, Morris M. Ewing, John L. Westmoreland, Sanford Janders, Hiram R. Romans, Thomas C. Law and Perry L. Blackwood. Applications may also be secured from Dr. C. N. Hughes, venerable master of Hermit Lodge of Perfection, or from Edward P. Keene, secretary of the Scottish Rite bodies, Masonic temple. Initiation fee is $5; dues, $2.50 per year. The $5 must accompany each petition for membership.

SERVICES ARE HELD FOR MARK A. BATTLES

Funeral services for Mark A. Battles, of Decatur, proprietor of a valetting shop at 125 Edgewood avenue, who was struck and killed Saturday night by an inbound Decatur car, near the Oakhurst station, were conducted at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at the chapel of Greenberg & Bond, Ga.

Mr. Battles was 32 years old. He is survived by his widow, young son, Mark, Jr.; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Battles; five sisters and four brothers.

ED SCHILLER TENDERED LUNCHEON BY FRIENDS

Previous to his departure for the Pacific coast, where he goes in the interest of the Marcus Loew theaters, E. A. Schiller, southern representative for the Loew interests, was tendered a "good-bye and good luck" luncheon at the Ansley hotel Monday by a number of his business and social friends. Mr. Schiller expects to be located in California for several months.

MRS. ELIZABETH DEHART RESTS IN WEST VIEW

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth O. DeHart, aged 105, who died Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Price, of 145 Dill avenue, were conducted at the residence at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. Interment followed in West View cemetery.

Mrs. DeHart is believed to have been the oldest woman in the south. Besides her daughter, Mrs. Price, she is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Mary E. Kees, and a son, Isaac N. DeHart, both of Nashville. She is also survived by seventeen grandchildren, fifteen great-grandchildren and nine great-great-grandchildren.

RETAIL MERCHANTS POSTPONE MEETING

The meeting of the Atlanta retail merchants which falls on Thanksgiving day, will be postponed until the following week. The exact date will be announced later. An unusually large attendance is requested at this meeting, for it will be the last one this year. The meeting during December will be postponed because of the holiday season.

The annual meeting at which the officers are elected takes place in January. The board of directors for the past few months has adopted a number of constructive plans among which is the plan to protect the buying public from the operations of any dishonest transient traders.

Yes, positively, three opportunities to win $1,000.00, and it is your opportunity as well as the next person's. It is really a marvelous offer. How many times have you wished you had $1,000.00? Now is your chance to make your wishes and hopes come true. If your list of "C-Words" is awarded FIRST, SECOND or THIRD prize by the judges, you will win $35; but if you would like to win more than $35, we are making the following special offer whereby you can win bigger cash prizes by sending in ONE or TWO subscriptions to The Atlanta Constitution.

HERE'S HOW: If your answer to the "C-Word" Picture Puzzle wins FIRST, SECOND or THIRD prize and you have sent in ONE six-month subscription to The Atlanta Constitution at $5.00, you will receive $350 instead of $35; fourth prize, $150; fifth prize, $100, etc. (See second column of figures in prize list.)

OR, if your answer wins FIRST, SECOND, or THIRD prize, and you have sent in TWO six-month subscriptions to The Atlanta Constitution at $5.00 or ONE yearly subscription to The Constitution at $9.50, you will receive $1,000 in place of $35; fourth prize, $300; fifth prize, $200, etc. (See third column of figures in prize list.)

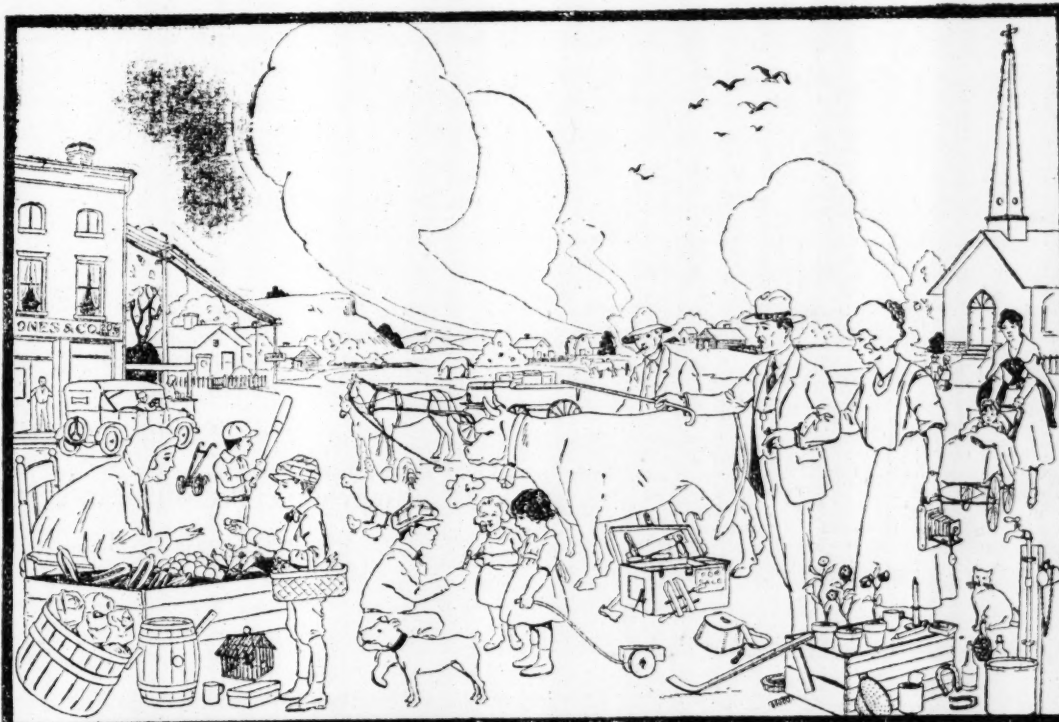

How is that for a liberal offer? But, LOOK, there are three $1,000 prizes. Therefore, if you stand FIRST, SECOND or THIRD and have sent in TWO six-month subscriptions at $5.00 or ONE yearly subscription at $9.50, you will win $1,000. NOW, FURTHER, as a SPECIAL OFFER, we will allow the participant having the best list of "C-Words" of the First Three Prize Winners (if fully qualified), the choice of $1,000 in cash or a new 1922 Buick Six Touring Car, value $1,715 f. o. b. Atlanta.

It takes but TWO six-month subscriptions at $5.00, or ONE yearly subscription at $9.50 (new or renewal) to qualify for the big $1,000 rewards. Absolutely, that is the maximum. You can do this with very little effort. Your own subscription counts.

Anyone Can Solve This Puzzle

Lots of Fun—Here's How

It is a game for everyone. It makes no difference whether your age is seven or seventy, you can enjoy this game. Here is a chance for the young to study, the middle-aged to think, and the old to brush up. Interesting, educating, fascinating. Nothing hard—just different. Look it over; talk it over, and then all join in and have a jolly good time. The picture at right contains a number of objects beginning with the letter "C." The object of the game is to find the most "CAN YOU" Take a good look at the picture; see, there are all sorts of objects that begin with the letter "C"—like cat, cow, calf, church, cabbage. Nothing is hidden—you don't have to turn the picture upside down to find them. Make a list of all the objects in the picture, the names of which begin with the letter "C." Don't miss any. Get the family to join in and see who can find the most. Fifteen cash prizes will be given for the fifteen best lists of words submitted. The answer having the largest and nearest correct list of visible objects shown in the picture, starting with the letter "C," will be awarded first prize; second best, second prize, etc.

LET THE CONSTITUTION BE YOUR SANTA CLAUS—

$4,000 IN PRIZES OFFERED—FREE

The Constitution stands ready to give fifteen big presents—FREE—much larger gifts than Santa usually brings around on December 25th. Wouldn't it be great to have $1,000 presented to you at the close of this Game and JUST BEFORE CHRISTMAS? To start out on the new year with this big sum added to your bank roll would add a new zest to your outlook on 1922 and the future. Then, too, $1,000 goes a long way in setting things "right side up"—for paying off the mortgage—building the new house—that trip for your health—etc., etc. There are innumerable things you can do with $1,000. "Nothing ventured, nothing gained," so it's up to you to try for the $1,000 or pass up your opportunity AND REGRET IT.

1922 Buick Six Touring Car

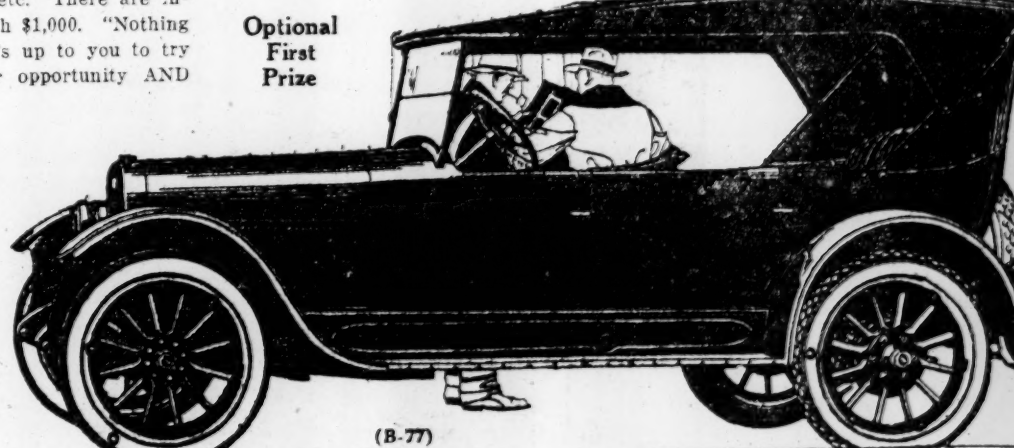

As a special prize for the best effort shown in the game, we will allow the participant having the best list of "C-Words" of the five prize winners (if fully qualified) the choice of $1,000 cash or a new 1922 BUICK SIX TOURING CAR, value $1,715 f. o. b. Atlanta. (This car is now on display at the John Smith Sales Rooms, No. 190 W. Peachtree St., Atlanta, Ga.)

BEGIN SELECTION OF ARBUCKLE JURY

San Francisco, November 14.—Whether Roscoe Arbuckle, the fat comedian, or the motion picture industry is the real defendant in the trial here to determine responsibility for the death of Virginia Rappe was a moot question at the close of the opening day.

A THREE DAY'S COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic Coughs and Persistent Colds Lead to Serious Lung Trouble. You Can Stop Them Now With Creomulsion and Emulsified Creosote That Is Pleasant to Take.

A New Medical Discovery With Twofold Action. Soothes and Heals the Inflamed Surface and Kills the Germ. Endorsed by Highest Authorities.

Money Refunded If Any Cough or Cold, no Matter of How Long Standing, Is Not Relieved After Taking According to Directions.

FINE FOR BUILDING UP THE SYSTEM AFTER COLDS

Of all known drugs, Creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membrane and stop the irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Increases appetite and body-weight. Ask your druggist. —(adv.)

YOU CAN HAVE PRETTY HAIR

Apply a little quinine mixed with bergamot oil two or three times a week. Get a box of quinine hair dressing, which is made up with quinine and bergamot oil, and rub a little well into the roots of your hair two or three times a week, with the tips of your fingers, you will see a wonderful improvement in a few weeks. At Drug Stores or by mail 25 cts. Quin-Mont Laboratories, Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.)

that it was "the case of the people of the state of California against Roscoe Arbuckle, accused of manslaughter," and the comedian, looking drawn and anxious, twisted in his seat and glanced nervously in the direction of his wife, Minta Durfee, who sat in the second row of spectators.

But when the preliminaries were over, and the examination of prospective jurors started, it became obvious that the attitude of the veniremen to the movies was an all important question with the state.

Chaplin or "Fatty." Every venireman who thought Roscoe Arbuckle was the greatest film comedian in the world was rejected by the state. Everyone who thought Charlie Chaplin was a greater comedian, was passed.

Here are some of the questions asked: Do you like moving pictures? Did you ever see Roscoe Arbuckle in the pictures? Is he your favorite comedian? Who is your favorite comedian?

The defense also had a list of questions. Arbuckle's attorneys insisted on knowing if any of the prospective jurors disliked the movies or were prejudiced against movie actors. Most of the veniremen examined declared that Charlie Chaplin was the greatest comedian. Whenever it was stated that "Fatty" was the favorite, the candidate for the jury was excused. The day ended with five in the box.

Opening Spectacular.

The opening of the trial was spectacular. Great crowds attempted to get into the courtroom, but admission was by ticket only. Police worked to keep back the mob of women who tried to get in and mobs of men caused as much of a furor around the corridors.

"Fatty" was there early, dressed in a blue Norfolk suit, and looking very glum. Not the faintest flicker of a smile was on his face all day. He listened to every word intently. One would never suspect that he had laughed his way to a fortune.

Attorneys for the state and the defense consumed most of the time wrangling. District Attorney Brady charged the defense was going to defame the reputation of Virginia Rappe, the dead girl. This was indignantly denied by Gavin McNab, retained by the motion picture industry to head Arbuckle's defense. McNab countered by charging that Brady would not let the defense talk to material witnesses and was keeping them hidden and under guard.

TWO ARE INJURED IN TROLLEY-AUTO CRASH ON MONDAY

A collision Monday morning between a street car of the Georgia Railway and Power company and an automobile in Hapeville resulted in slight injuries to William H. Schauben, of Hozie, Pa., and Fred Harris, of Florida. The machine was wrecked.

The men had just crossed the Central of Georgia railroad tracks and were attempting to get across the car line at the time of the accident. They were motoring from Florida.

U. S. SURPLUS STOCKS TO GO ON BLOCK TODAY

Beginning Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock and continuing daily until several thousand dollars' worth of surplus stock is sold, an auction sale of many articles and various kinds of supplies and equipment in the fourth army corps will be held at the Candler Hotel. Prospective purchasers will be required to make a deposit before participating in the auction, it was announced. Captain Roy W. Horn, of the quartermaster corps, and a number of other officers will conduct the sale.

Among the articles to be sold will be ranges, kitchen utensils, motor and vehicle equipment, leather and harness supplies and saddles, textiles such as duck, drill, flannel, hosiery, shoes and wool suiting, and army clothing. The property will be sold in lots ranging from 100 in number up to 500 pieces.

SECOND PICKLE TRIAL WILL BEGIN TUESDAY

A jury having been selected Monday afternoon, the hearing of evidence against Thad Pickle, charged with the murder of the two little Guinn children on New Year's eve, will begin at 9 o'clock this morning in the DeKalb courthouse, at Decatur.

At a previous trial, a mistrial was declared, after a jury had deliberated on the evidence for more than forty-eight hours. With the state contending that when his automobile struck the two little girls on East Lake drive he was drunk and driving more than forty miles per hour, the defense contended that he was not drunk, and had merely lost control of his machine.

Pickle disappeared following the accident, and it was two weeks later when he surrendered to the Fulton Tower.

Frank Hooper and W. Paul Carpenter are associated as counsel for the defense.

HARDING PROCLAIMS GERMAN WAR OVER to officials here, but it is expected that Baron Edmund Thiermann, former counselor of the German legation at Washington, will arrive in Washington shortly to arrange for a technical installation of a German embassy.

Press dispatches from Germany have indicated that the Ebert government was having difficulty in finding a suitable appointee to the Washington ambassadorship in view of the expense through the difference in exchange rates. It has been suggested that Germany might for a time be content with a charge d'affaires, but such suggestion has not been officially communicated to the American state department.

President Harding for some time has had under consideration the names of several possibilities as ambassadors to Germany and it is understood that Representative Alanson B. Houghton, of New York, was first in the president's mind in that connection.

Text of Proclamation. The text of the president's proclamation follows:

"By the president of the United States of America:

"A proclamation: Whereas, by a joint resolution of congress, approved March 3, 1921, it was declared that certain acts of congress, joint resolutions and proclamations should be construed as if the war between the United States of America and the imperial German government had ended, but certain acts of congress and proclamations issued in pursuance thereof were excepted from operations of the said resolution:

"Whereas, by a joint resolution of congress, approved July 2, 1921, the state of war which was declared by joint resolution of congress approved April 6, 1917, to exist between the United States of America and the imperial German government was declared at an end:

"Whereas, a treaty between the United States and Germany was signed at Berlin on August 25, 1921, to restore the friendly relations existing between the two nations prior to the outbreak of the war, which treaty is word for word as follows: (Here follows text of treaty.)

"And, whereas, the said treaty has been ratified on both parts, and the ratification of the two countries were exchanged at Berlin on November 11, 1921:

"I, Warren G. Harding, president of the United States of America, hereby proclaim that the war between the United States and Germany terminated on July 2, 1921, and cause the said treaty to be made public to the end that every article and clause thereof may be observed and fulfilled by the United States and the citizens thereof.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington, this 14th day of November, 1921, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and forty-sixth. (Signed)

"WARREN G. HARDING. By the President, CHARLES E. HUGHES, Secretary of State."

NIGHT CLERK FINED FOR FIRING PISTOL

D. L. Wood, night clerk at the Georgian Terrace hotel, was fined $20 Recorder Johnson Monday upon charges of firing his pistol through the door of his room in the hotel. Wood is said to have been under the influence of whisky at the time of shooting.

Rheumatism Due To Waste Products In The Blood

For Genuine Relief Your Blood Must Be Purified.

As the blood circulates, it has two functions to perform. First: to carry nourishment to all parts of the body. Second: to take up the waste products and cast them out through the proper channels. When waste products accumulate in the system, they are a menace to life. They cause lowered vitality, many forms of skin disorders and rheumatism. There is no disease more painful, nor a disease that will lead to as much serious trouble as rheumatism. Genuine relief can be had only by correcting the basic trouble—waste products. Thousands and thousands of men and women during the past 50 years have cleared their blood of waste products with S. S. S. It is the ideal remedy for rheumatism, because it removes the poisonous waste matter which is causing the trouble. There are no bad after effects and the result is wonderful. Begin taking S. S. S. today and write for 6-page illustrated booklet, "Facts about the Blood"—free. Personal medical advice, without charge, may be obtained by enclosing a complete description of your case. RAIL UNION HEADS MEET IN CHICAGO

No Statement Issued After First Session to Discuss Abandonment of General Strike.

Chicago, November 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Six hundred and fifty general chairman and officers of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers opened a three-day meeting here today to consider their officers' action in calling off the threatened railroad strike and to plan their future course of action.

Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the engineers, and William S. Carter, president of the firemen and engineers, announced at the end of the first session that they would have nothing to say before tomorrow night, when a statement probably will be issued.

Although T. C. Cashen, president of the Switchmen's Union of North America, was reported to be in the city with several of his executive officers, he did not attend the meeting, and Mr. Stone said he was not expected. Neither W. C. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, nor L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railway Conductors, was present or represented.

Union officials explained that the general chairman in attendance were those who did not respond to the United States railroad labor board's order to attend the hearing here two weeks ago, which culminated in the calling off of the threatened strike.

Following an explanation by Mr. Stone and Mr. Carter of the reasons which actuated the unions in cancelling the strike order, several committees were appointed to consider proposed plans of future action and directed to report at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Mr. Stone said the officials expected to complete their work by Wednesday night.

All Retirees. The grand chief of the engineers denied that today's session had any connection with the announcement made at Cleveland last week that the unions would revive the strike vote if the labor board failed to make good on the unofficial promise that no further wage cuts would be considered until all pending rules and working conditions on the lines involved are settled. Mr. Stone said he did not expect to see any members of the labor board while in Chicago.

All the union officials were reticent when asked to discuss the subjects considered at the meeting, but united in saying that only routine problems of future operations were discussed.

HOLD EXAMINATION FOR P. O. JOB HERE LATE NEXT MONTH

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMAN. Constitution Bureau. Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, November 14.—(By Constitution Bureau Wire.)—While the exact date has not been definitely fixed it is announced today that the next examination for postmaster in Atlanta will be held on or about the 20th of December.

Urges Continuance Of the Confederate Chaplain Reunions

Continuance of the annual reunions of the chaplains who served the confederacy in the civil war is urged in a letter to The Constitution from E. M. Green, an ex-chaplain who lives in Danville, Ky. His letter follows:

"Editor Constitution: The chaplains of the Confederate States Army, Dr. A. R. Holderby, advises that, on account of the extreme age of the few surviving veterans, the annual meeting of their association be discontinued.

"It is a great pleasure to these old heroes to meet their comrades from year to year, and the pleasure they get the greater the pleasure their association should be perpetuated as a visible memorial of a great cause and a glorious past, and they should be allowed to have their reunions as long as two of them are left to clasp hands. And when the last one is left, he will be shrouded in a confederate flag, and buried with military honors.

"Ex-Chaplain of the Confederate Army." "Danville, Ky."

CITY PLANNING EXPERT URGES ZONING SYSTEM

The menace of unregulated building, with the remedy offered by the zoning plan was discussed by J. R. Whitten, city planning expert, at a meeting of the Atlanta realty board in the Chamber of Commerce building Monday night. Mr. Whitten, who is known in all parts of the United States as an expert in zoning and municipal problems of a similar nature, declared that the "enormous waste from haphazard building," as the erection of inappropriate structures in the residential district, as well as excessively tall buildings in the business district, could only be avoided by a zoning and planning commission. Mr. Whitten illustrated the benefits of zoning, or proper grouping of classes of buildings, by the use of stereoscopic views.

He declared that Atlanta is in need of a system of parks on the outer borders of the city. Boston, he said, has 25,000 acres for parks alone, and Chicago has 20,000 acres set aside for park construction.

"On the economic side," said Mr. Whitten, "zoning means increased industrial efficiency, and the prevention of enormous wastes. On the human side, it brings about an increase in health, comfort and happiness for the people."

Mr. Whitten has been prominently identified with zoning commissions in many large cities of the United States. His former position as chief of the zoning department of the city of New York is well known.

WOODMEN CIRCLES TODAY ENTERTAIN SUPREME GUARDIAN

Woodmen circles of Atlanta will entertain the supreme guardian, Mrs. M. E. LaRocca, today at the Piedmont hotel.

An elaborate program has been planned and speeches of welcome will be made by Sovereigns W. P. Varner, Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Ollis Crump, Abbeville, S. C.; John C. Quinn, T. L. Bennett, State Manager W. O. Tuley, and others. Responses will be given by the supreme guardian, Mrs. LaRocca, and the state manager, Clara B. Cherry, Miss Lilla Gordy and Mrs. Blanche E. Knoderer.

Each afternoon at 3 o'clock Dr. Erdman lectures at the First church, and the lecturing is repeated each evening at 7 o'clock at Agnes Scott college.

Farm Experts to Give Speeches at Chamber During Big Convention

Plans are being made by Atlanta business men, headed by Lee Ashcraft, president of the chamber of commerce, for a big dinner Tuesday night, November 22, when talks will be given by Henry C. Wallace, secretary of agriculture, and Senator W. S. Kenyon, of Iowa. They will be here to attend the third annual convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Plans are being made for a similar dinner Wednesday night, November 23, for the purpose of hearing two other guests who are slated to attend the convention—Bernard Baruch, of New York, and Charles McNary, of the Capper-Volstead co-operative marketing law.

It is not yet known whether they will remain in Atlanta on the night following their speeches to the convention, but efforts will be made to have them do so.

To Present Petitions For Freedom of Debs To President Harding

Washington, November 14.—An engagement was made today with President Harding by eight members of the World War Veterans' association and others, who won congressional medals of honor, or distinguished service awards during the late war, to present memorials asking the release of Eugene V. Debs, now serving sentence in the Atlanta penitentiary.

The memorials also asked the release of 140 other men confined in federal prisons after conviction upon various charges having to do with the obstruction of the government's activities during the late war. The decorated former service men asserted that the prisoners were "moved by the same ideals as moved us" in opposing war.

A. G. Cooper and John M. Levitt, respectively, national chairman and chairman of the eastern division of the War Veterans' association; Carl O. Parsons and George H. Mallon, of Minnesota; C. K. Slack, of Wisconsin; Burger Loman and John J. Kelly, of Chicago; Sam Dreben, of El Paso, and D. C. Poindester, of North Dakota, presented the memorials.

REV. H. J. ELLIS DIES SUDDENLY AT HOME

Rev. H. J. Ellis, a retired Methodist minister, aged 75, of 45 Mansfield avenue, died of heart failure at his home at 9:30 o'clock Monday night. Mr. Ellis was a graduate of the University of Georgia, which he entered after leaving the Boys' High school. The new class officers are leaders of a movement among students and alumni and friends of the law school to make the library of this school unsurpassed by any other law library in the world. The library is now ranked as one of the world's best law libraries.

Funeral services will be conducted at Inman Park Methodist church. Arrangements will be announced later.

ANNUAL CONGRESS OF CHI PHI FRAT MEETS THURSDAY

Hundreds of members of the Chi Phi fraternity are expected to attend the ninety-seventh annual congress of the fraternity, which will meet in Atlanta at the Piedmont hotel on Thanksgiving day, and last until the following Saturday night. In the past the fraternity has met here four times, in 1882, 1892, 1900 and 1908. During the first of the meetings here, Henry W. Grady was named international head.

The congress will hold two daily business sessions, and on Thanksgiving evening and night will hold a reception at the Georgian Terrace hotel, following the Tech-Auburn football game, and a smoker in the Piedmont hotel. Friday Dr. Phinizy Calhoun, president of the Atlanta Alumni association, will entertain the grand officers and delegates at his home, and a dance will be held in the evening at the Piedmont Driving club. Saturday night at 7 o'clock a banquet will be held in the Capital City club.

DR. ERDMAN ARRIVES FOR LECTURE COURSE

Dr. Charles R. Erdman, dean of the school of theology of Princeton university, who is in Atlanta this week for a Bible lecture course engagement with the First Presbyterian church and Agnes Scott college, will be the principal speaker at the weekly Kiwanis club luncheon Tuesday.

Dr. Erdman is being entertained by Dr. J. Spole Lyons, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Monday he addressed a meeting of the Atlanta Christian conference in the Anselmy mine room.

Each afternoon at 3 o'clock Dr. Erdman lectures at the First church, and the lecturing is repeated each evening at 7 o'clock at Agnes Scott college.

14 MERIT BADGES GIVEN YOUTHFUL ATLANTA SCOUTS

Fourteen Atlanta Boy Scouts received merit badges Monday night at the regular meeting of the Boy Scout troop 15, first division, in the Fulton county courthouse. Colonel E. E. Pomeroy, president, presiding.

Present at the meeting was Roland L. Shist, who has just returned to Atlanta from Anniston, Ala., where the annual convention of southeastern Scout executives was held from November 9 to 14.

It was announced that two Atlanta Boy Scouts have qualified for the eagle rank, the highest honor given by the Scout organization. Only three other Atlanta Boy Scouts have that rank.

The boys who received merit badges Monday night and the subjects they qualified in follow: W. H. Turner, troop 32, camping; Walter C. Hendrix, troop 14, craftsmanship and wood carving; Renfro Yarbrough, troop 11, cycling; Eugene Baylis, troop 14, firemanship; Franklin Cater, troop 15, first aid to animals and scholarship; Robert Adams, troop 15, life saving; Clement Ford, troop 15, life saving; Weldon J. COLUMBIA STUDENTS HONOR ATLANTA BOY

Wallace Preston Zachary, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Zachary, 723 Park street, has been elected vice president of the law class of 1922 at Columbia university, New York. Mr. Zachary is a graduate of the University of Georgia, which he entered after leaving the Boys' High school.

The new class officers are leaders of a movement among students and alumni and friends of the law school to make the library of this school unsurpassed by any other law library in the world. The library is now ranked as one of the world's best law libraries.

"And Man, How I Did Eat Real Food!"

LOOKING BACK, now, to those vacation days, there's a lively kindling of joy—even in the memory of appetite at camp-fire meals.

Real food—and real hunger! That's the year-around relationship between appetite and Grape-Nuts—that crisp and wholesome gift from the great out-of-doors—the perfected goodness of Nature's best food grains.

There's a flavor and charm to Grape-Nuts that appeal to the appetite like the tang of the summer camp, and there's a scientific balance of nutrition and a readiness of digestion that make Grape-Nuts a wonderful aid to health and vigor.

"Real food" is the verdict of enthusiastic thousands who find a daily delight in the unique sweetness and crispness of Grape-Nuts, and who "carry on" splendidly with its body-building nourishment.

Let the zest of appetite be a companion of your indoor meals, too. Grape-Nuts is sold and served wherever good food is sold and served.

MOVING PICTURE MEN GATHER IN ATLANTA

About twenty-five southeastern members of the Associated First National Pictures, Inc., met in Atlanta Monday morning and afternoon at the Anselmy hotel and discussed plans for the future and also appointed an advisory board, which will meet monthly and handle the interests of southeastern motion picture executives.

The advisory board is composed of Sig Samuels, of Atlanta, chairman; R. D. Craver, of Charlotte, N. C.; Louis Kalfeldt, of Palatka, Fla.; Joe Burton, of Toccoa, Ga., and B. H. Money, of Birmingham, Ala.

Besides the morning and afternoon business sessions, a dinner was given at the Anselmy hotel at noon Monday. Mayor Key was the chief speaker. Willard Patterson, of Atlanta, presided. The business sessions were presided over by Joe Burton.

The national meeting of the organization was held from October 24 to 28 in Chicago. Similar sectional meetings were held in all parts of the country Monday.

LOOTER OF PAWNSHOP SOUGHT BY OFFICERS

Detectives Monday were searching for the yegman who during Saturday night or Sunday night entered the Crown Loan office, 182 Decatur street, and secured money and jewelry valued at between $5,000 and $8,000.

The robbery was discovered Monday morning by the proprietor, Mr. L. Klein, when he opened for business.

The safe was opened without the use of explosives, various figures found upon the door indicating that the intruder used some form of calculation unknown to the police in determining the proper way to manipulate the combination. The inside door was "jimmied."

It is believed that $800 in money, a $100 Liberty bond, 600 watches and 50 diamond rings were taken, according to the report to the detectives.

Mr. Klein said he did not believe the thieves disturbed the front door. He found the back door open when he opened the place Monday morning.

Detectives Campbell and Sturdivant were assigned to the case.

Recover Plots.
Plaintiff Thomas J. E. McDaniel and S. E. Woodson about 3 o'clock Monday morning recovered pistols and other articles stolen from the pawnshop of E. Klein, 60 Decatur street, Saturday night, and arrested four negroes in connection with this robbery. They are Steve Williams, 294 Magnolia street; Dave Hudson, 322 Auburn avenue; Grant Pritchard, 328 Magnolia street; and Otis Woods, 283 1/2 Magnolia street.

They are being held under blanket charges of suspicion pending further investigation by the officers.

Clayde Thomas, 21, of Knoxville, Tenn., is being held in connection with an attempted burglary of the Tech High school on Marietta street Sunday morning. He was arrested in the school, it is said, by Special Officer J. H. Hardy, night watchman at the building.

Detectives Campbell and Sturdivant arrested Charlie Shanks, alias J. W. Schwartz, of 210 Atwood avenue, Monday as he was attempting to dispose of some of the jewelry which the officers claim was stolen from Jacobs' pharmacy at Whitehall and Mitchell streets, when that place was burglarized Friday night. Shanks refuses, it is claimed, to state where he got the jewelry, but denies stealing it. He is being held under a charge of suspicion.

Fred Sullivan, 25 years old, of 32 Garnett street, was not present to answer charges of violating the state prohibition law when his name was called in Judge Andy Calhoun's court Monday morning and his $500 bond was ordered forfeited.

His attorney explained to the court that Fred was out of the city. This statement was verified when Fred returned Monday afternoon, bringing along with him in his auto a cargo of 100 gallons of corn whisky, according to Captain Cheshire and Officers Gates and Head, of the county police force, who arrested him about 3 o'clock near the river as he was journeying toward Atlanta.

A companion leaped from the speeding machine, scrambled to his feet and "took to the woods," making his escape. His identity is unknown to the officers.

The whisky was seized and carried to the vaults in the courthouse, the car was confiscated and carried with the prisoner to the Fulton county jail, where he was placed under a $1,000 bond in the new case, and his bond of $500, which was forfeited Monday morning, was increased to $1,000.

Fred made both bonds and left the jail smiling. But he did not say whether he was going out of the city again any time soon.

MORTON WILL SPEAK TO ENDEAVOR UNION

James Morton, secretary of the Atlanta Christian council, will be the principal speaker Tuesday night at the bi-monthly rally of the Atlanta Christian Endeavor union. The gathering will be at the Harris Street Presbyterian church, and the program begins at 8 o'clock. Melvyn Brown, chairman of a special committee, will make a report on the winter road given by the union recently at which more than 200 young people were present. Special selections will be offered by a quartet from the Druid Hills Presbyterian church.

LOCAL BOYS TO LEAVE FOR OKFENOCKEE TRIP

To join with Macon and Waycross Boy Scouts for a trip into Okfenokee swamp, four Atlanta scouts will leave the city Wednesday afternoon to represent the Atlanta scout council. They are Charles V. Atkinson, Jr., troop 9; T. Bartow Ford, troop 19; James LeMay (eagle scout), troop 19; and Richard Hubbard, troop 1.

With the Macon scouts, the Atlanta boys will proceed to Waycross in automobiles to join with the scouts of that city in their trip into the swamp.

The leathers are extra fine quality. Many are mounted with 14K solid gold and sterling silver corners and edges.

For $1.00 each extra we apply 14K solid gold block initials which add greatly to the attractiveness of such a gift.

The Constitution's Weekly Detective Story

The Demand of the Double Four

A PETER RUFF STORY
BY E. PHILIPPS OPPENHEIM
(Copyright, 1921, for The Constitution.)

Next Week, "Mrs. Bogner's Star Boarder."

There entered, at that moment, a tall, thin man, dressed in dark clothes, who walked with his hands in his overcoat pockets, as though it were a habit. He came straight to Dory and handed him a piece of paper.

John Dory glanced it through and rose to his feet. A gleam of satisfaction lit his eyes.

"Monsieur Antoine," he said, "I am sorry to cause you any inconvenience, but here is my card. I am a detective officer from Scotland Yard, and I have received information which compels me, with your permission, to examine at once the sleeping apartments in your hotel."

Antoine was fiercely indignant. "But, Monsieur," he exclaimed, "I do not understand! Examine my rooms? But it is impossible! Who dares to say that I harbor criminals?"

"I have information upon which I can rely," John Dory answered, firmly. "This comes from a man who is no friend of mine, but he is well known. You can read yourself what he says."

Monsieur Antoine, with trembling fingers, took the piece of paper from John Dory's hands. It was addressed to Mr. John Dory, Detective.

If you wish to find Jean Lemaitre, search in the upper rooms of the Hotel de Flandres. I have certain information that he is to be found there.

PETER RUFF.
"Never," Antoine declared, "will I suffer such indignity!"

Dory raised a police whistle to his lips.

"You are foolish," he said, "already there is a cordon of men about the place. If you refuse to conduct me, I shall at once place you under arrest."

Antoine, white with fear, poured himself out a liqueur of brandy.

"Well, well," he said, "what must be done, then? Come!"

and his lip curled with contempt. "That is the game! Upon my soul, I didn't think that you would stoop so low!"

"I gave you a message for your uncle in response to his invitation," Hoyt paused and then added deliberately: "I should like to change it. Please say to him that I am not open to a bribe. Go back and tell your uncle, the owner of the Unatika mine, that I am here to fight him and all his crooked, cowardly gang to the last ditch! He cannot bribe me with his money and his money and his money, I keep faith with the Northern Star, and the road goes through!"

Grace raised her head and faced him more, and her eyes glistened with tears.

"Very well, Barney, I will carry your message. It is too late; I realize that now, but I don't want you to think any worse of me than you must. I love you, Barney. I always have, and I always shall, good-bye."

She held out her hand with a little smile that was infinitely weary and Hoyt's expression softened.

"I am sorry, Grace, deeply sorry," Wordlessly he pressed her hand, but she drew it slowly away and bowing her head turned and left him.

CHAPTER VIII.
The Call to Arms.
Jud Pittinger appeared at the little shack when the news of Jane's alleged illness got abroad.

"Just thought I'd drop in and see how you was," Miss Jane. He ran a fat forefinger between his neck and the collar which girded it. "I opened know to names to mention, I guess, maybe it won't do no harm to tell you."

"But just this one evening, for a holiday," Her tone was soft, with a wailing, compelling quality in it and she laid her hand upon his sleeve.

"I am sorry. Please convey my regrets to your uncle."

"You are still angry with me? Barney, I was a little beast, but we were both children. You see, I have waited, as you asked me to, after all! Her studied composure was shaken and her rich, contralto voice broke oddly. "I know this sounds hideous, is bold, but if you know how I have suffered you would soften and be the old Barney once more. My uncle is as anxious to make amends as I for the incontinent part he took in bringing about your trouble long ago; he is in a position to do much for you."

"So that is it!" Hoyt spoke softly.

The Constitution's Weekly Novel

The Single Track

BY DOUGLAS GRANT
(Copyright, 1921, for The Constitution.)

Next Week,
"Captain Jonah's Fortune," by James A. Cooper, Starting Sunday.

Barney Hoyt left the general office after a protracted conference with the superintendent and was making his way to the track where an engine waited to take him to the end of the road. It had reached the glacier bend and work was already begun on the trestle, but what he had just learned had turned his elation to grim foreboding.

He knew now what the coming of Gordon Winfield portended, but the knowledge only steeled his determination to put the road through if it cost him his life.

He had not heard that any women were in the party from the yacht, and when he reached the end of the track and looking out along the track and saw a girl coming slowly toward him, his heart almost stood still. If it were Jane, she must have been looking for him; the first time she had sought him out since Ronald Winfield had appeared on the scene! He quickened his pace for a few strides and then abruptly halted, for the approaching girl was not Jane, after all. She was taller and more mature, and the hair beneath the jaunty red top o' her hat was not a red-gold, but a smooth, glossy black.

The woman caught sight of him, paused and then came forward quickly with both hands outstretched.

"How do you do, Grace?" he spoke quietly and without visible surprise or constraint as he shook hands.

"Barney, I have a warm welcome for me after all these years," she asked, and then hurried on as if fearful of his answer. "You do not seem surprised to see me?"

"I presume you came with your uncle on his yacht."

"Yes, and I have a message for you from him," Grace hastened to add, slowly: "Barney, you were never ungenerous in the old days. Uncle Win wants you to let bygones be bygones and come and dine with us on the yacht tonight. Will you?"

"It is impossible," Hoyt frowned. "You forget that I have my work to do."

"But just this one evening, for a holiday," Her tone was soft, with a wailing, compelling quality in it and she laid her hand upon his sleeve.

"I am sorry. Please convey my regrets to your uncle."

"You are still angry with me? Barney, I was a little beast, but we were both children. You see, I have waited, as you asked me to, after all! Her studied composure was shaken and her rich, contralto voice broke oddly. "I know this sounds hideous, is bold, but if you know how I have suffered you would soften and be the old Barney once more. My uncle is as anxious to make amends as I for the incontinent part he took in bringing about your trouble long ago; he is in a position to do much for you."

"So that is it!" Hoyt spoke softly.

up shop yesterday in the new shack and the boys all but mobbed me. They kept comin' in from each shift askin' about you and it's my opinion the whole outfit would have been out here if Big Jim hadn't wanted 'em off. There's lots o' good in everybody if folks would only help it to come out. I tried to preach that in my sermons years ago—"

He paused, reddening, but it was too late.

"I thought you looked like a minister, all dressed up as you are now!" Jane exclaimed. "That is why you never swear?"

Jud nodded.

"Had a little church back in Arkansas," he said. "Don't say anything to the boys about it, Miss Jane, for you know how they would all give me the laugh! I never meant to let it out."

"I won't," Jane assured him and hesitated. "One must not ask too many questions in Alaska."

As if divining her thought, Jud said hurriedly:

"I come up here first as a missionary—sincerely, I never think it—but the gold fever hit me hard, and when that gets you, preacher or no, you've just naturally got to get it out of your system. I fought against it, but the Lord knew best, I guess; I was a mighty poor preacher, anyway," he added naively. "I wrote back to the convention and resigned and then started out moshin' north. But I never struck pay dirt. When I got clean discouraged I took a job as company storekeeper for some fellers that did, and that's how I come to be here."

"But why didn't you go back to your church?" Jane asked.

"I didn't feel the call," responded Jud simply. "Then a Paddler opened the door he added: 'I didn't come to pester you with past history, Miss Jane. When will you feel able to get your system straightened out, and that's how I come to be here.'"

BIG DEALERS ATTEND 'TOM JONES' MEETING

Approximately one hundred distributors of Willies-Knight and Overland cars, in the southeastern states, attended the "Tom Jones" meeting held here Monday by the Atlanta branch of Willies-Overland, Inc.

The meeting was conducted by Tom Jones, sales promotion manager of the Willies-Overland factory at Toledo, Mr. Jones' message to his dealers consisted chiefly of explaining merchandising plans for the use of dealers in selling both new and used cars, and in outlining tried business policies found profitable to dealer organizations.

Walter Wright, newly appointed southern division manager, succeeding E. N. Culver, who was promoted to assistant general sales manager at Toledo, and M. C. Mentzer, manager of the southeastern branch in Atlanta, both spoke on general business conditions.

*Sales Record Made.
One of the astonishing facts brought out at the meeting was the statement that the Willies-Overland plant built and shipped more cars in September than any previous September in the past five years, while October production and sales exceeded any previous October in the history of the firm.

George DeMack, distributor in New Orleans for the past ten years, stated that his October sales were the largest in any October since he has been in the business. Gus Johnson, manager of the Jacksonville branch, stated that his October sales exceeded any month in the history of the branch. Those statements of progress in times of depression, added to the general feeling of optimism, which was quite noticeable among all the dealers in attendance.

Officials of the Atlanta branch stated that the convention was one of the best attended and most successful ever held in the south.

Crippled Children Hospital of Shrine Incorporated Here

The Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children was incorporated Monday, when Judge John T. Pendleton, in Fulton superior court, signed an order granting a charter to the petitioners, who are Forrest Adair, Atlanta; Sam T. Cochran, Dallas, Texas; W. Free-lan Kendrick, Philadelphia, Pa.; Frederick W. Eaton, Tacoma, Wash.; John D. McGilvray, San Francisco, Cal.; O. M. Lanstrum, Helena, Mont., and Philip D. Gordon, of Montreal, Canada.

According to the petition, hospitals, which will be located in various places in the jurisdiction of the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine of North America, will not be operated for pecuniary gain. The purpose of the institution, as set forth, is to establish a series of hospitals for afflicted children. Attorneys Brandon & Hynds and W. A. Fuller filed the petition.

HEINZ

OVEN BAKED BEANS

with Tomato Sauce

Ask, "Who wants Heinz Baked Beans?" and all hands go up. With good reason too. The taste is unforgettable. The reason lies in the oven baking—dry heat ovens as of old.

But the delicacy of the dish is enhanced by the luscious tomato sauce which Heinz makes so well from the choicest red ripe tomatoes.

It is a mighty good food for growing children—and for you, whoever you are.

BIG MINSTREL TREAT AT COLORED Y. M. C. A.

The Happy Land minstrel will be the big attraction at the Butler street branch Y. M. C. A. Friday and Saturday evening of this week. This show is featured by the boys' department and judging from the number of rehearsals, the program will be one of the liveliest yet given in the association building.

Billy Young, an experienced minstrel man, has the show in charge, and he is working up some first-class comedians. The harmony singers and different group sketches will be the features of the evening.

Birthday Party for

Thomas R. Harmon, Jr.

Mrs. Thomas R. Harmon entertained yesterday afternoon at the Howard theater, followed by a birthday party at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue, in compliment to her little son, Thomas R. Harmon, Jr.

The apartment was attractively decorated with fall flowers and appropriate Thanksgiving suggestions. A large birthday cake with nine lighted candles adorned the table in the dining room. The ices, mints and favors carried out the color scheme of pink and yellow.

At intervals on the table were small turkeys, pumpkins and other favors, filled with mints and bonbons. Fifteen little friends of the honor guest were invited.

ACTRESS TELLS SECRET

Tells How to Darken Gray Hair With a Home-Made Mixture.

Joicy Williams, the well-known American actress, recently made the following statement about gray hair and how to darken it with a home-made mixture:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will gradually darken gray, streaked or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1/4 ounce of glycerine.

These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."—(adv.)

Miss Nan Stephens Will Entertain Belgian Celebrity

Miss Nan Stephens will give an informal reception Saturday evening at her home in Druid Hills in compliment to Madame Elly Ney, celebrated pianist, who will be presented in concert Saturday afternoon at Eggleston hall, at the opening event of the Music Club's Series Intimes.

No matter how many new artists appear at the beginning of any season, and no matter how many survive American criticism, there is always one who stands out from the number.

This is invariably an artist of unusual personality, although great artistry must be combined with it. Mere eccentricity will scarcely carry a singer or a musician through a season, and even outstanding personality must be backed up with a transcendent quality of musicianship.

This fall all signs point to the survival above all others of Elly Ney and Nijmegen; the one a Belgian pianist, the other a Hungarian youth, and both pianists.

Mme. Ney will have the advantage over the Hungarian in that her art has reached its season, although she is a young woman. It is an interesting fact locally that Atlanta is to have a part in making her American reputation.

Usually concert management have been timid about bringing her the artist whose reputation has not yet become sensational in this country. But Madame Ney's success was such a certainty that her Atlanta engagement had been secured before the end of the season, which brought all of critical New York to her feet.

"She would make one think of Caruso, but there is even a greater power," says Katherine Spaeth, of the Evening Mail, and every authority concedes the Belgian's supremacy.

A detail which will interest some people even more than her artistic grandeur, is the fact that she is the granddaughter of Napoleon's Marshal.

Entertainment at Public Health Hospital.

Sunday afternoon, a delightful entertainment was given at the Red Cross hut, for the patients at the Public Health hospital, on Peachtree road.

A twenty-piece orchestra from the Central Presbyterian church, led by W. W. Hulse, gave a delightful concert, including many popular and beautiful selections.

Dr. Caroline Hoffman gave several charming readings and a concert of young ladies from the church. Mrs. Taylor, chairman, assisted in entertaining.

Auditorium Luncheon At Woman's Club.

There will be luncheon at the Atlanta Woman's club Tuesday, November 17, at 12:30 o'clock, given by the association committee of the club, for the purpose of raising funds to fill the vacancy.

The members who have taken telephone lists are urged to be present and give reports.

Parker-Woodward Wedding at Coronado, California.

The wedding of Mrs. Charlotte Parker and Captain Park Howell Woodward, U. S. navy, which was solemnized on Armistice day at Coronado, Cal., was an event of social interest to a wide circle of friends throughout the country.

Captain Woodward is a native Atlantan, graduated from the Boy's High school, and later from the Naval academy at Annapolis, class of 1890. He has served in the navy with distinction, being on the flagship Brooklyn under Admiral Schley during the Spanish-American war; and during the world war on the battleship New York, in European waters. At present he is commander of the squadron of destroyers of the Pacific fleet.

He is the oldest son of Mrs. Woodward and the late Park Woodward, one of Atlanta's pioneers, and is of distinguished southern ancestry. He is the husband of Mrs. Howell Woodward, daughter of Mrs. Robert H. Parker, Harry P. Woodward, all of Atlanta, and Dan Woodward, of Birmingham, a member of the late Mr. Francis Hodgson Orme and the late Captain Evan P. Howell.

Benefit Dance.

Hadassah chapter will give a dance this evening at Roseland.

The money raised will go towards the Nurses' Training school and medical unit. Jax Roseland's orchestra will render the music.

Chi Phi Reception At Emory.

A brilliant social affair of Monday afternoon, November 21, from 4 until 6 o'clock, will be given by the Gamma chapter of the Chi Phi fraternity, to celebrate the opening of the new chapter house, No. 1 Fraternity row, Emory university.

The members of the faculty of Emory university, the board of trustees and alumni are cordially invited to be present and to bring their wives.

The reception committee includes Mr. and Mrs. H. Warner Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Z. Rosser, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Colquitt, Dr. and Mrs. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Muse, Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Nixon, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Johnson, Jr., Thomas Whipple Connally, Dr. and Mrs. Montague L. Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Parker, Judge and Mrs. Luther Z. Rosser, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Blount, Dr. and Mrs. Howard V. Weems, Charles Bowie Milligan, Dr. and Mrs. Franklin N. Parker, Vanderbilt; Dr. and Mrs. James E. Dickey, Mr. and Mrs. Goodrich White, Mr. and Mrs. James G. Lester.

Miss Fried, of New York, To Be Bride of Mr Jacobs

Of interest to many friends in Atlanta and throughout this state is the announcement of the plans for the wedding of Miss Muriel Fried, of New York, and Sinclair Jacobs, of Atlanta, to take place at the St. Regis hotel in New York, tomorrow evening.

The bride and groom will spend two weeks at White Sulphur Springs, Va., on their honeymoon, and will reach Atlanta about December 1, to make their home in the residence of Dr. Joseph Jacobs, 713 Peachtree street, which Dr. Jacobs has turned over to them. The couple anticipated their honeymoon in France next spring.

A party including Dr. Joseph Jacobs, the groom's father; Miss Daisy Jacobs, William Rich, Randolph Adler, Mrs. Benjamin Wiseberg, Mrs. O. Strauss, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rich and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schwab left Sunday evening for New York, to be present at the marriage.

Miss Fried is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fried. Her father is a prominent attorney in New York, and the family were formerly residents of Macon, Ga.

Mr. Jacobs is well known in business and social circles, being head of the chain of drug stores established by his father, Dr. Joseph Jacobs, during the world war he served in France.

Junior Red Cross Council Elects Officers at Meeting

The Junior Red Cross council of the Commercial High school, met on Friday, November 12, at 8 o'clock, for the election of officers for the coming year.

Miss Martha Sibley, of the Stewart Avenue school, read a very interesting Thanksgiving story, and following her reading there was a short discussion regarding the observance of Thanksgiving in the schools.

Miss Mary Arthur, of the southern division of the American Red Cross, gave an instructive talk on the subject of health, and offered definite suggestions for each representative to follow up in her school, and the number of Christmas boxes packed for the children overseas. Altogether about 1,000 of these boxes have been packed and sent overseas.

Y. W. C. A. Board Of Directors Holds Meeting

The board of directors of the Young Women's Christian association met in all-day monthly session Monday, the program embracing everything pertaining to the administration of the association. Mrs. Archibald Davis, president, presided.

Of interest was the election of a permanent nominating committee for the association that will serve in making nominations for the directorate. The ballot system will be followed which will give each of the individual members of the Y. W. C. A. a vote in the election of officers.

Elected to the committee are Mrs. W. A. Albright, chairman; Mrs. W. P. Peacock, Mrs. Plato Durkin, Miss Mary Phelps, Mrs. George Street, with two "Y" members at large to be elected. The new form of election by ballot will place the local body upon an election basis that is being followed by the large democratic organizations of the country.

Following the resignation of Mrs. Clem Harris, who has served the association as cafeteria director during and since the late war, Mrs. Chesley E. Howard was elected to fill the vacancy. The importance of the Bible courses that are being given by the association was stressed by Mrs. W. A. Albright, religious work chairman. Dr. W. A. Smart, of Emory university, lectures to the business women every Tuesday night, and Dr. F. R. Shipman, president of Atlanta Theological seminary, lectures to housekeepers and students every Thursday morning. Both courses are being given at Y. headquarters, Peachtree Arcade, and are open to the public.

Besides the professors of Atlanta colleges who are giving their services as lecturers to the association, the ministers of the city are making weekly talks at the Y. W. H. and annex. Reports of the different departments of the association were given. The week of prayer will be observed by the "Y" clubs, their programs to be announced later.

For Mrs. Hutton.

Mrs. R. L. Bugz will entertain at the Atlanta Woman's club at luncheon at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. Hugh Munroe Hutton, of Savannah. Mrs. Hutton is the guest of Mrs. Bugz at her home. Covers will be laid for twelve at the luncheon.

Mrs. McKinney Gives Pretty Bridge-Tea.

Mrs. L. C. McKinney entertained delightfully at a bridge-ten yesterday afternoon, at her home on Peachtree street, in compliment to her two daughters, Mrs. Howard Perry, of Providence, R. I., and Mrs. Frank Cochran, of Albany, Ga.

Bowls and baskets of bright autumn leaves, in tones of red, brown and yellow, together with yellow and white chrysanthemums, decorated the reception rooms of the home, and the tea table was adorned with a large silver basket filled with chrysanthemums. Encircling this were silver candelabras holding yellow, unshaded tapers.

Thanksgiving was suggested on the dainty, hand-painted score cards and Thanksgiving favors were presented to each guest. The top score prize was a hand-embroidered linen towel, and the consolation was an embroidered French apron. The honor guests were presented with silk hose.

Mrs. McKinney received her guests wearing a costume of black Canton crepe.

Mrs. Perry wore flowered georgette crepe, and Mrs. Cochran's gown was of gray and black Canton crepe.

The guests included, besides the honorees, Mrs. Harold W. Beers, Mrs. Charles Bowen, Mrs. Charles Loring, Mrs. M. L. Smith, M. C. C. Thanksgiving Dance of Atlanta Athletic Club.

The Atlanta Athletic club announces a Thanksgiving dinner-dance to be given at the East Lake clubhouse, November 24. Dinner will be served at 8 o'clock. The affair will be informal, with the usual good music.

There will be no dance Saturday evening, November 26.

The East Lake club will close at 8 o'clock during the winter months. No service can be had after above hour, unless by previous special arrangement with the manager. This does not apply to Saturdays and Sundays or special occasions.

Tea for Visitors.

Mrs. William Russell Hoyt was hostess at tea yesterday afternoon in honor of a group of matrons, including Mrs. Dudley Golding, of Wichita Falls, Texas, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. Charles Rice, Mrs. Robert Landis, of Nashville, Tenn., who is spending the winter in Atlanta; Mrs. Augustus J. Bohn, recent charming bride, and to Miss Marjorie McMillin, one of this season's debutantes and the attractive daughter of Mrs. William Lincoln Barre.

The lovely home was arranged with garet Hoyt, in a costume of black chiffon velvet.

The guests included a group of the honor guests' friends.

Thanksgiving Cake Sale.

The board of the Atlanta Childs' Home will conduct cake sales at a number of Rogers' stores on the Tuesday preceding Thanksgiving day. The board will gladly receive any donations of cakes for this sale. Call Ivy 7567.

Prices realized on Swift & Company sales of carcass beef in Atlanta, Ga., for week ending Saturday, November 12, 1921, on shipments sold out, ranged from 9 cents to 19 cents per pound and averaged 12.20 cents per pound.—(adv.)

See Our Beautiful Candle Fixtures

For side wall illumination the sconce which adorned the chimney-piece of Colonial times has again found favor, but instead of tallow dips it is equipped with candlelight electric bulbs, which lend a soft light and add materially to the beauty of the room.

The candelabra in the same design furnishes an effective central light.

These beautiful fixtures are in ivory, gold, silver and bronze finishes, and come in several different designs—all true to the Colonial type.

Call at our display room and ask to see these.

This Letter Will Tell You How

"I suffered terribly every month, and was always tired and nervous, and had indigestion, and often could not do a thing. I was this way about two years, and had to stay home with my mother. I tried several medicines, then I found a book of yours, and mamma told me to try the Compound. So I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it certainly worked wonders with me. I have taken six bottles of it, and am still taking it when I feel the need of it. I have already recommended it to a number of working girls, who are taking it. I am working now, and stand up all day and feel fine. I am glad to say that Pinkham's medicine did a lot for me and for my mother, and we only wish we had taken it a long time before."—ROSE SCHOFF, 4876 Annunciation St., New Orleans, La.

THIS letter is but one of a great number received every year from women, young and old, and from almost every walk of life. These letters testify to the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Schoeff works for her living, but on account of sickness was obliged to stay at home for two years. During this period she suffered terribly at times. She tried several medicines without finding relief. Finally she tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and in this letter tells what it did for her.

The Vegetable Compound contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and can be taken in safety by any woman. Your livelihood may depend upon your health. So try

Miss Mikell's Tea.

A pretty affair of yesterday afternoon was the tea given by Miss Herietta Mikell, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Mikell, on East Seventeenth street.

The reception rooms were artistically arranged with quantities of chrysanthemums, and in the dining room the table, which was covered with a handsome lace cloth, had for its decoration fruit and chrysanthemums.

Miss Mikell was assisted in entertaining her guests by her mother, Mrs. H. J. Mikell, and by Misses Mark Orme, Lucile Stone, Annis Jones and Clayton Callaway.

About forty guests called during the afternoon.

Drama League Meets This Afternoon.

The Drama League will hold its third meeting of the season this afternoon at Eggleston hall at 3:15 o'clock. Miss Carolyn Cobb will read one of the loveliest verse plays of Josephine Preston Peabody, "The Wolf of Gubbio." This little play, which is a medieval Italian Christmas pantomime, is an exquisite piece of verse writing and an admirable prelude to the Christmas season. Atlanta has no better reader of poetic drama than Miss Cobb, and the program and reader seem unusually well matched. The meeting will begin promptly and members are reminded to bring membership cards for the present season.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home,
but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any drugstore, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a year.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat, and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and hoarse cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic cough, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract known the world over for its healing effect on membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co.

Indiana Lady Says She Was Run-Down, Suffered
With Her Back, Took Cardui and Got Well.

Richmond, Ind.—"I thought I would write a line or so, to say that I owe my good health and strength to Cardui," says a letter from Mrs. Cora Courtney, of 705 North Seventeenth Street, this city.

"I was all run-down until my family thought they would lose me," writes Mrs. Courtney. "My husband coaxed me to take Cardui, so, to please him, I did, and I will say I do not regret it, for I am able to do all my work and do my shopping."

"I have five children, four in school, my husband and a boarder to do for, and I do all my own work for all of us, and find time to play. We all praise Cardui. Every sick and run-down woman should take this wonderful medicine."

"I suffered with my back; a very weak feeling in my limbs."

"I felt hardly able to drag; just tired—so tired all the time."

"It was an effort for me to do anything, but Cardui helped me so I felt like a different woman."

If you are in a run-down physical condition, suffering as this Indiana lady says she did, give Cardui a fair trial. It should help you.

Cardui is a purely vegetable, tonic medicine for women's ailments, found valuable in thousands of cases as described above.

Take Cardui. Your druggist sells it.—(adv.)

Citizenship for Red Men Urged by the Woman's Club

The Red Man—his rights and responsibilities, was the subject discussed by Mrs. Gertrude Bonnin (Zetkala-Sa), prominent Indian woman and leader in educational matters relating to her race, in her talk before the members of the Atlanta Woman's club yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Bonnin attended the State Federation of Women's Clubs at Savannah and at the urgent invitation of the members of the Atlanta Woman's club, stopped over in Atlanta one day on her return trip to Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Bonnin is an Indian princess of the Sioux tribe, and in the native costume of her race, presented a striking appearance.

She recited some beautiful Indian legends, and how the "heart" interest is predominant in the speech and action of the red man, his creed being: "The sun is my father, the Great Spirit governs all, we are accepted children." Ten thousand Indians served in the war, Mrs. Bonnin declared, and more than 80 per cent of these were volunteers. To those who came back citizenship rights were given, but the orphans and families of those who did not return are living on a restricted reservation denied the rights of citizenship. She made a forceful plea that pressure be brought to bear to induce congress to take immediate steps in giving the Indian full citizenship, and following this idea, and the action of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs at the Savannah meeting, the following resolution was read and adopted:

"Resolved, that the Atlanta Woman's club endorse the resolution recently passed by the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, that citizenship should be conferred upon the American Indian, and that we urge congress to take action in this respect as soon as possible."

(Signed) MRS. OMAR F. ELDER, Resolutions Chairman.

Convention High Lights.

Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, first vice president, spoke interestingly of the salient features of the Savannah convention both as to the work accomplished and the entertainments given. One of the most significant announcements was the fact that 95 new clubs have been added to the Georgia federation in the last year, these clubs and the one already in the federation embracing a membership exceeding 40,000.

Mrs. Richardson also announced that the club would honor its president, Mrs. B. M. Boykin, at a reception on the 20th birthday anniversary Wednesday, at which time the members and their husbands or escorts are invited to attend.

The following new members were announced and welcomed into the club:

Miss Virginia Harden, Mrs. W. J. Kelly, Mrs. Ruby Gibbs, Mrs. George B. Hinnman, Mrs. J. J. Marchant, Mrs. Joseph H. Hales, Mrs. Wayne P. Sewell, Mrs. R. Frank McCormack, Mrs. Benjamin Parker, Mrs. Henry Horsey, Mrs. Carol L. Dinkler, Mrs. Henry Potts, Mrs. Lee Potts, Mrs. R. O. Campbell, Mrs. Mark Cooper, Mrs. L. E. LaFontaine, Mrs. L. B. Joel, Mrs. J. G. Coleman, Mrs. W. T. Gentry.

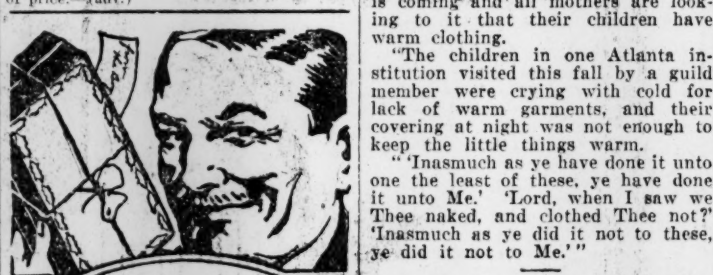

"Ye Merrie Revels."

Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith, auditorium chairman, announced an entertainment to be given for the benefit of the auditorium at Eggleston hall, Tuesday, November 23, by Mrs. Alice Taylor, Mrs. Henry Green and Mrs. L. E. LaFontaine, the program to include the Griffith orchestra, the Shriners' band, the minstrels of the Southern Bell Telephone company, pupils of Mrs. LaFontaine in dances, readings, and other novelties in the way of entertainment.

Announcement was also made of a luncheon to be given by the auditorium committee Thursday, November 17. Reports will be made as to the proceeds.

U. S. Is Advancing $1,500,000 Daily To Aid Producers

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON.
Constitution Bureau.
Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, November 14.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—The war finance corporation is advancing to agricultural and live stock interests through banks an average of a million and a half dollars a day now, the most remarkable boost that has been given to the producing interests of the nation under a reconstruction business program.

Today the corporation approved 22 advances aggregating $2,935,000. Following were in the south and southwest:

One hundred and twelve thousand dollars in New Mexico, $272,000 in Missouri, in five loans; $730,000 in Texas, in six loans; $67,000 in Georgia, in three loans; $34,000 in Louisiana, $25,000 in Florida, $50,000 in North Carolina. The corporation also announced that in accordance with the previously announced arrangement in connection with advances to finance sugar beet formal papers involving advances of $4,150,000 were today approved, and this sum will be paid at once in the Utah and Idaho districts.

Alabama Is Planning Surprise Crimson Is Laying for Georgia

BY FUZZY WOODRUFF

Alabama can be counted on to play better football than it is capable of playing when it meets Georgia Saturday. On the other hand, Georgia will hardly be up to its real form when it clashes with Xen Scott's Crimson. All of which being taken into consideration is fairly indicative of the fact that Alabama will see a real football battle in the only varsity game played at Ponce de Leon park this season.

Alabama's record has been terrifically tarnished all season. It felt better than it did when it was routed by Vanderbilt. It was humiliated by Florida. The nearest approach that Scott has had to a football victory is a tie game with Louisiana State. Undoubtedly this condition has rankled the soul of the Alabama leader, who for two seasons previous had put out formidable aggregations. If he could beat or tie the Red and Black, however, his season would not be such a dull and drab affair.

With this record in view, it seems hardly within the realm of remote possibility that the Crimson could give Georgia a tussle, but that where a slip-up may come if you'll believe the experts who have watched the Alabama team.

Jimmy DeHart, assistant coach of the Red and Black, is one of those who believes that Georgia is going to face a fight. He points to the fact that the magnificent football team with which Scott had swept and won in past years was practically entirely lost to him at the beginning of this season. From Sessions, the great Alabama center, was lost by graduation. Professional baseball and graduation got Stevenson and Lenoir, his great backfield force. Graduation got Boone and Strickland, his great line. Boone strayed into baseball to lead the Southern league in hitting. The Howards disappeared from Alabama all in a bunch.

Scott had nothing to build on except Clemens, his flashy captain, and some second-string men. However, according to DeHart, he had a tremendous amount of new green material. "Those men have been learning football while you were taking their jinkies," says DeHart, "and all year they have been pointing for the Georgia game. They'll put everything out that they have to beat us."

"I'm not afraid that they will do it, but I am sure they will do it, if we don't play football."

Georgia found to have slipped back. Ever since the early Alabama days, Georgia has been looking on this Alabama game as a day of rest. The Red and Black were in the face of that remarkable game of last year, when Georgia went on the field odds on favorites, ran up 14 points without gaining an inch of ground, then awoke to find the score tied and only won by virtue of a picked-up punt that had been blocked in the last few seconds of play.

Georgia should and doubtless will have a hard time getting its spirit back up for a grueling fight Saturday. The Alabama game has looked

AL PILSBURY Yesterday Was Rest for Tornado N. O. RACING TAKES FORM

AL PILSBURY, yesterday's rest for Tornado N. O. RACING TAKES FORM. But Grind Will Continue Today

New Orleans, La., November 14.—(Special.)—Al Pilsbury, today's rest for Tornado N. O. RACING TAKES FORM. But Grind Will Continue Today. Pilsbury, who is usually sound as a dollar on football, stepped off on the wrong foot yesterday when he declared that the fact that Vanderbilt was able to tie Georgia was because Georgia had slumped. Ed didn't see the game. Had he done so, he would have written that never this year has Georgia approached the form it reached for Vanderbilt. Its defense was impregnable and it had twice the normal drive in attack that it has yet shown.

Families and penalties kept the Red and Black from running up three or four touchdowns on the Commodore. Nothing but an unwarranted and totally inexplicable mental lapse permitted Vanderbilt to score on that on-side kick.

But I agree with Ed that neither Georgia nor any other football team can hold such a fine edge for a week. It is bound to slump off some. Georgia can slump off a good deal, but beat Alabama, but there is always the possibility that Alabama will play an inspired game, in which case Georgia would have to be at its very best to avoid disaster.

OTHER STRENUOUS RATTLES ON PROGRAM.
The Georgia-Alabama fracas is not the only thing in the south worthy of mention. For instance, the undefeated and justly celebrated Centre Colonels will meet Washington and Lee, which is altogether likely to remain undefeated. Then there's the contest between the Florida Alligators, who have grown to alarming proportions, and Mississippi College, which would have a good football team if it had no other player than the redoubtable G. H. Hale. Still again there is the battle between Tulane and Louisiana State, which has tradition behind it to make it one of the great struggles in the south each year.

None of these games is likely to have any effect on southern ratings to speak of, but they will all be games worth going miles to see.

MORE PRIZES FOR SCRIBES
The addition yesterday of a pair of golf stockings, donated by the Georgia Museum Clothing company, was the eleventh prize in the newspaper men's golf tournament to be staged Sunday under the auspices of the South Boulevard Improvement club on the James L. Key course near Grant park.

Officials in charge of this portion of the arrangements committee stated yesterday that probably one or more prizes would be added today. The flock of awards will be placed on display Wednesday in the windows at Corner drug store and on Peachtree street. In the meantime the scribes are getting accustomed to the new municipal course. Yesterday delegations from the three Atlanta dailies comprised a good portion of the golfers on the Key links and expressed themselves as being delighted with the course.

The greens, of the stripped variety, have been put into excellent condition and little trouble in putting is anticipated. The fairways are being worked on and will be in apple-order for the festivities.

ALDRICH OF YALE IS LEADING SCORER
New York, November 14.—Captain Malcolm Aldrich, of Yale, whose two field goals helped to defeat Princeton at New Haven Saturday, is the leading point scorer of major football teams of the east. He has made nine touchdowns, seventeen goals from touchdown and four goals from the field, for a total of 83 points. Captain Jim Robertson, of Dartmouth, is second with 75 points, and the Lightner, of Penn State, third, with sixty-six.

Cornell continues in the lead for team scoring with 351 points; Lafayette second, 246 points; and Penn State third, with 230.

WILLIAM PLANT SETS AMERICAN RECORD
New York, November 14.—William Plant, veteran pedestrian, who yesterday set a new American record of 2:02.57 3-4 in winning the Metropolitan A. A. 15-mile championship, now holds five walking titles.

Besides the 15-mile championship Plant is both Metropolitan and national champion at three and seven miles.

GRID HISTORY MAY BE BROKEN SATURDAY
Cambridge, Mass., November 14.—Should Harvard triumph over Yale on the gridiron at the stadium next Saturday, the present gridiron football history will be broken. The triangular series has never resulted in a triple tie, such as would be the case were Harvard, already beaten by Princeton, which in turn was defeated by Yale, become victor in the final game. The Crimson eleven has ever defeated Yale after losing to Princeton and no Yale team which has gone into its last match undefeated for the season has been beaten by Harvard.

PIEDMONT DEFEATS CLEMSON RESERVES
Denorest, Ga., November 14.—(Special.)—The strong Clemson college eleven defeated the Piedmont reserves here this afternoon in an exciting game. The final score was 30 to 14. Clemson Reserve won the first two touchdowns in the initial quarter but the local boys got together, but after that they never threatened any more.

Piedmont started off in the second quarter and scored twice and again in the third and last quarters they scored once. Maurer and Exley played the best game for Piedmont, while Hagan and Forrester starred for the visitors.

JOE MANDOT TO MEET PHILLY VIRGETS
New Orleans, La., November 14.—(Special.)—Joe Mandot, veteran lightweight, is scheduled to meet Philly Virgets in a fifteen-round bout at Pilsbury garden on Monday, November 21. These two men recently met at the Tulane club over the teardrop route and it was called a draw.

Virgets and Mandot have been training for more than week already, according to word sent from their training camps, and each man expects to be in superb condition for the distance fray. The bout will mean the elimination of one man or the other from local title circles.

EASTERN CLUB LANDS SPRINTER FROM WEST
New York, November 14.—(Special.)—Scholz, former University of Missouri sprinter and a member of the American 400-meter relay team, which created a new world's record at the last Olympic games, has joined the New York Athletic club and will carry its colors in the winter meets.

ENGLAND WINS.
Leicester, England, November 14.—England defeated Ireland in a international soccer match today by a 4 to 1.

TECH'S INJURIES APPEAR TO BE COMING AROUND IN NICE SHAPE—AMIS IN HARNESS.
We had a holiday yesterday and it felt fine not to dally your anatomy around the track four or five times. Coach Aleck felt that the boys deserved a holiday for their playing of Saturday and accordingly granted it. Anything to get off the string and to ease up a bit from the steady grind and necessary tension which the players have been under.

The idea certainly appealed to the favored crew. Only we felt more or less lost roaming around the school with nothing to do. A good picture at the Howard fixed things up for us nicely for a good many. It's a wonderful thing to be able to know that for one day at least you are free. Indeed, most of the fellows are so sure that we couldn't have had much more to give them, that they are now, but you just feel boy all over. A day will give the muscles a good chance to rest and unfold, then we will be ready for the work, the biggest task yet, that of handling Auburn the small end of a score.

"Red" Improving.
The injured numbers are improving with time. "Red" Barron's leg is considerably better and with an even break of luck he will be in fine shape to give the fans a good show. The mighty quick next week though in order to give his muscles a thorough rest.

"Daddy" Amis' condition is not so encouraging. He got a severe blow on the neck, one that will cause him considerable pain and will keep him out of action for some time. It is an old injury cropping out again. You remember how "Daddy" had to wear his head in a harness last year against Georgetown. It is probable that he will have to don the harness again. This will give him the necessary protection and permit him to play in the game. This, of course, will give the efficiency to some extent, but "Daddy's" greatest asset lies in his unwavering fight, his stickability. "Daddy" may be a great asset of plans one more game with the old gang. It was absolutely impossible for him to participate last Saturday, so things are looking pretty blue for him. It seems that his charley horse has assumed a chronic form and refuses to come around with treatment. "Daddy" is certainly able to hobble around at the present time, and unless his leg shows a decided improvement he will be in no condition to start the Auburn game. He has not scrimmaged now for two weeks, and, naturally, is not in top form. If he can't scratch, things will be all right. Not, Tech will be a loser. We are certainly pulling for Daddy's return to the Auburn game. For the Auburn game may be the last that he will play for Tech.

Brewster's Shoulder.
Jimmy Brewster's shoulder, which has been troubling him considerably, should be all right by now. If he doesn't hurt it any more he will be ready to go. The boys are the whistle blows for us to meet the Plainsmen.

Auburn's record for the year is not so very flattering. Reversed among their victories we see Marion Institute, Springfield College and G. M. A. They really played good football, they played Tulane 14 to 0. Tulane has one of the strongest teams in that section of the country. They are coached by an all-American of the year. So Auburn had to play good football to beat them.

Don't get the idea that we will not have a hard time of it. It will be one of the hardest games that we have played in a long time. All I can say is that if we put an Auburn team in a harness against Georgetown, we can beat anything.

Bulldogs and Crimson Working Tickets for Battle Go on Sale

BY CLIFF WHEATLEY

Georgia Bulldogs and Alabama Crimson, in their annual football struggle, is the menu for Atlanta Saturday, and reports from the principals involved indicate that it will prove one of the season's classics for this vicinity.

Tickets went on sale yesterday at Jacobs Pharmacy at Five Points, and while it is too early yet to estimate the final attendance figures, the Red and Black and Alabama's warriors usually play to huge crowds, and this season will be no exception.

In the meantime, Ponce de Leon is being prepared for the reception of the customers. R. J. Spiller, president of the Atlanta Baseball association, stated last night that Ponce will be able to care for more than twelve thousand fans.

Before it was known that the Georgia-Dartmouth game would be played at Grant field, a contract was let calling for 3,000 additional seats at the park, and construction was well under way when the announcement came.

It was too late to stop the proceedings, and the work is nearing completion at this time. This means that more than ten thousand customers can be accommodated in the stands alone, with sidelines on three sides to swell the total.

As for the game itself, the dope that favors the Georgia Bulldog to win will have little effect on the attendance. It's very much like Yale and Harvard. If the sons of Eli were slated to lick the Crimson 100 to 0, the battle would still draw a maximum attendance.

It is Georgia vs. Alabama—the same old story, and the same old taxpayers that have witnessed the game for years will be back at the same old stand.

It will mark the initial appearance in Atlanta this season of the Bulldogs, and there are thousands of fans in this section who are anxious to see them in action. The work of the great line has been heralded far and wide, and folks want to see it battle.

And the Atlanta boys starting for the Red and Black, Artie Pew, Dave Collins, "Snack" Thompson and others, will be magnets that will attract hundreds of thousands of fans.

There is no worry over attendance, not be the result of trading next tickets are on sale, and yet before the rush gets started in earnest.

SPILLER WILL BUILD TEAM THIS WINTER.
One thing is certain about the Cracker baseball team of 1922. It will not be the result of trading next spring or last resort grabbing late in the season.

STONEHAM RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT OF GIANTS
New York, November 14.—Charles A. Stoneham today was re-elected president of the New York National league baseball club, the corporate title of which is the National Exhibition company, at the annual meeting of stockholders in Jersey City. The board of directors for the coming year will consist of Mr. Stoneham, John McGraw, F. X. McPartland, R. F. Robertson, Florence A. Stoneham, J. J. Bondy and H. A. Ferguson.

WIDER COURTLAND STREET PLANNED
ten, of the city planning commission, and others pledged their support in making the movement a success.

Chairman Alexander, at the close of the meeting read a petition which he proposed to present immediately to the mayor, council and city planning commission, but Councilman Nutting said that it should be revised, that a complete canvass of property owners was needed, and that the city planning commission should be asked to make a study of the business channel of Peachtree and Whitehall streets, even more so than the west side, which will be cared for by the Spring street development. Mr. Otis also stated that 75 per cent of the city's population lives east of Peachtree street.

IMPROVEMENT NECESSARY.
Mr. Alexander in opening the meeting stated the improvement of Courtland street is absolutely necessary for the well-being of future Atlanta, which is the city of the future. He said he would see that a population of 1,000,000. In this connection, he said that John C. Calhoun, 75 years ago, when Nashville was hardly a village, predicted that a great city would some day rise at this place.

Joel Hurt said that during the last year the population of Atlanta had increased from 30,000 to 210,000, or 700 per cent, and asked what a population of this proportionate increase years roll around if the city continues, will do when another 43 are not widened and developed. He said that St. Louis, San Francisco, Chicago and New York have experienced the same difficulties, and told of the great sums those cities are now expending to develop their streets.

"We will have to spend hundreds of millions of dollars, too," Mr. Hurt said, "if we don't start now when the cost will be approximately low." He said that Courtland should be widened to 100 feet, and certainly to not less than 80 feet, and declared that the street should be cut from North Peachtree to Ponce de Leon avenue.

Mr. Hurt also pointed out the success of the development of Ivy street, stating that the city and the property owners have both made money as a result of increased assessments.

Movement Is Fraised.
Edmund Martin stated that it is one of the greatest movements in the city for progress, and declared that all property owners should jump at the chance to develop this thoroughfare. "Why is it that North avenue property and that on other parallel streets is not as valuable as that on Ponce de Leon avenue?" asked Mr. Martin. "Because Ponce de Leon is a wide street, and the people on Courtland street profit just as much when they get a wide street."

Mr. Hurt said that a purpose of the movement is to connect a well-developed Courtland street with a well-developed Capital avenue and Washington street, whereby the deplorable traffic conditions of Whitehall and Peachtree streets will be bettered. He said that only by public sentiment could these plans be accomplished.

The petition which was read by Mr. Alexander will be redrawn, and will be presented to the mayor, city council and county commissioners within the next few days.

IMPROVEMENT CLUB MEETS TUESDAY NIGHT
Matters of importance in civic work will be discussed at a meeting of the South Boulevard Improvement association to be held Tuesday night in the home of R. C. Lied, 678 South Boulevard.

Among the matters to be considered will be a proposed golf tournament for newspaper men. It was stated Monday by J. I. Crockett, secretary.

SALESMANSHIP TALK BY MAJOR R. J. GUINN
Major R. J. Guinn will speak on "The Science of Approach" Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce building, at the second salesmanship meeting of the junior chamber of commerce.

Wall Street Is Skeptical Over Conference Outcome

BY R. L. BARNUM

New York, November 14.—Despite the cable news that England would formally accept, in principle, the Hughes sweeping disarmament plan, Wall Street was inclined to be skeptical of the final outcome of the disarmament conference.

This frame of mind was undoubtedly brought about by the action of the steel shares, Bethlehem leading with a decline of over 4 points up to noon. However, those in the financial district, whose views count for the most, were highly enthusiastic over the start made by the conference with plans far more definite and constructive than had been anticipated. In such quarters the belief was expressed that in the long run the steel industry would gain more than it would lose by the proposed disarmament plan.

It was perfectly natural that Bethlehem should have led the decline in the steel shares. Bethlehem has more money than any other steel company invested in shipbuilding and ordnance plants. It will be recalled that Bethlehem was selling around $26 a share when Charles M. Schwab started for Europe early in 1915. He returned with his pockets full of war orders and Bethlehem never did stop climbing until it touched $700 a share. From $38 a share in 1915, steel common, advanced to its high record of 136 1/2. All of the other steel shares followed.

Now they are paying the fiddler, and if the Hughes disarmament plan is carried out the immediate effect on the steel industry will be unfavorable. But for the long pull steel, like every other industry, will benefit by a world program that means money saved for general development work instead of money economically wasted.

Today's statement from Washington, showing our foreign trade for the month of October, came at an appropriate time. For the ten months ending with October, 1920, we shipped out to the rest of the world, $6,831,000,000 worth of goods and bought $4,691,000,000 worth, making a total foreign trade of $11,522,000,000. For the same months of this year we shipped out only $3,899,000,000 and bought only $2,655,000,000 worth, making the total only $6,554,000,000 against the $11,522,000,000 a year ago. There is not a business man alive that knows just what is going to happen to us or any other country while the world is returning to something like a pre-war basis.

For the month of October our imports were $183,000,000 against $180,000,000 for September of this year, and $333,000,000 for October of last year with our exports at $346,000,000 against $325,000,000 for September, and $751,000,000 for October, 1920. That is a gain in the right direction, but not much of a gain considering that because of seasonable business October should show a large increase over September. Our total foreign trade for October was $529,000,000 against $1,084,000,000 for October of last year.

There was considerable profit-taking in the stock market today, and the general feeling was the reaction would go further. However, in the last banking quarters, the relief was expressed that stocks bought in the decline would show profits before the end of this year.

VICTORY MEMORIAL
CORNERSTONE LAID

Washington, November 14.—Secretary Weeks, using a gavel made of wood taken from the white house when it was rebuilt more than one hundred years ago, officiated today at the laying of the cornerstone for the new Victory memorial here. The structure is to be erected on a plot at Sixth and B streets, northwest, a few blocks from the capitol, which was given by congress for the purpose. Its final cost, according to estimates, will be $100,000,000 of which more than $1,000,000 already has been raised.

President Harding departed from his seat at the ceremony to express a hope that "if in the inevitable revolution of human fates this box shall be opened by posterity, posterity shall have attained our aspirations for it."

General Pershing was applauded when in the course of a brief speech at the ceremonies he mentioned the armament conference.

"The supreme test of the judgment of men is about to be made," he said. "If this world conference should fail, then we have but landed down to posterity strife more bitter than that through which we have passed, and leave our boasted civilization stranded. But we shall not fail."

He concluded with the declaration that "winners and losers are the adoption of the sentiments" expressed by President Harding and the "clear and frank declaration" of Secretary Hughes in opening the conference.

NEW YORK GARMENT
WORKERS WALK OUT

New York, November 14.—Thousands of garment workers in New York struck today in protest against the piece work system, reinstated by their employers.

Israel Fenberg, strike manager of the International Ladies' Garment Workers union, said that most of the sixty thousand workers had quit. The cloak, suit and skirt manufacturers' association issued a statement declaring that 60 per cent of the workers had refused to join the walkout.

Picketing of the hundreds of shops in the city will begin tomorrow.

Galli-Curci Star
As Metropolitan
Season Commences

New York, November 14.—The Metropolitan opera season opened tonight, for the first time in fifteen years, without Caruso. In the late tenor's stead, Manager Giulio Gatti-Casazza presented the Metropolitan's newest star, Mme. Amelita Galli-Curci, in Verdi's "La Traviata."

It was the first time in several seasons that the Metropolitan company had essayed "La Traviata," and with Galli-Curci's pure voice soaring through the arias of "Violetta," the brilliant first night audience gave ample evidence that it considered the revival of the famous old opera richly worth while.

As admirably suited by physique to the part as the first "Violetta," she failed before its first audience in Venice in 1853 because the prima donna was too plump to be anything but laughable as a frail, dying beauty—Galli-Curci captivated her audience from the start.

And when her rich voice rose in the loved "Ah, Fors e Lui," her hearers' surrender was complete.

Mme. Galli-Curci was admirably supported by a company that included Misses Beret and Ezener and Messrs. Gies, De Luca, Bada, Piro, Lauretti and Ananin. The opera was led by Misses Rosina Galli and Rudolph and Mr. Bonfigli. An entire new stage setting of exceptional beauty was provided.

RED MOB THREATENS
LIFE OF U. S. CONSUL

Washington, November 14.—A crowd of 300 radicals, in which were a number of soldiers in uniform, congregated before the American consulate at Tampico, Mexico, last night and threatened the life of the consul, the state department was informed today.

The demonstration, it was said, was in connection with the consular investigation of a statement declaring that 60 per cent of the workers had refused to join the walkout.

Picketing of the hundreds of shops in the city will begin tomorrow.

ONE DEAD, TWO HURT
IN SEAPLANE'S FALL

Pensacola, Fla., November 14.—Lieutenant I. D. Spaulding and Ensign Steadman Acker suffered several lacerations of the face and head as the result of a seaplane falling about noon today.

The three men were flying in an HS-2 seaplane, No. 2,900, over the bay off Fort Barrancas, and fell from a height of about 1,000 feet, the plane making several complete turns before hitting the water.

Lieutenant Spaulding and Ensign Acker were picked up by rescuers from the naval air station, but nothing could be found of the third man, who is being dragged in an effort to locate the body. Colton's home is in Burlington, N. D., and his father has been notified. A board of investigation has been called and will determine the cause of the accident.

ADVANCE GUARD TO WATERWAYS
MEET ARRIVES

Savannah, Ga., November 14.—(Special.)—The advance guard of the Atlanta Deepwaterways association arrived in Savannah Sunday on a special car from Richmond. A special train from Philadelphia and a chartered steamer with delegates will arrive tomorrow.

The meetings will begin tomorrow at noon. The attendance will run to five hundred. Two United States destroyers, the Hunt and the Thomas, arrived in port this morning to remain through the convention period.

Governor Hardwick will not be able to attend on account of a slight illness, but will be represented by Secretary of State S. G. McCloud.

Sarge Plunkett,
Humorous Writer,
Praised by Friend

Praise of the humorous stories written for The Constitution by Sarge Plunkett, (H. M. Wier) is contained in a letter addressed to The Constitution by D. E. Moore, of 120 McPherson avenue. Mr. Moore says that he is an old friend of "Sarge" Plunkett, now critically ill.

"He gave us stories of every day life," Mr. Moore writes. "He was full to the brim with humor. The Constitution was a life's trouble, and helped us to better citizens," declared Mr. Moore. "Who will take his place?"

TEN PEOPLE DIE
IN TENEMENT FIRE
IN NEW YORK CITY

New York, November 14.—Ten lives were lost, and more than a score of people injured in a fire of unknown origin, which partially destroyed a five-story tenement house on West Seventeenth street, before dawn today. The building was occupied by fifteen families, mostly Irish-Americans and Greeks. Only a few of the dead, two of whom were children, have been identified. Nine were burned and the tenth died in a fall from a ledge where he had clung until exhausted.

MAON POLICE CHIEF NOT TO BE REMOVED

Macon, Ga., November 14.—(Special.)—Mayor Luther Williams today set at rest reports that Chief Martin Thompson, of the police department, had been removed from his duties. "I have no intention of changing the head of either of these departments," said Mayor Williams. "They are under civil service, I consider, and the only way to remove them is for some specific omission or commission in the performance of their duties. I have nothing to charge."

"I wouldn't remove them if I could, and I don't want to," he said. "The mayor has a long conference with Chief Thompson today, but both declared afterward that there was nothing of import in their meeting. The mayor was asked if he had issued orders for a general 'clean-up' of the city, to which he replied he had not. He said, however, he hopes to get out some method whereby the city can be gradually cleaned of prevailing vice, without spasmodic efforts and following lacerations."

WILLIAM C. CARLISLE
DIES AT MACON HOME

William Coby Carlisle, 18-year-old son of J. G. Carlisle, recently chosen manager of the Georgia Fruit exchange, with headquarters in Atlanta, died at his home Sunday night at the family residence, 203 Hines terrace, Macon, following an illness of two weeks with typhoid fever. He was a junior at Mercer university. Funeral services will be held today.

The young man had been active in church and literary work, and, although he had attended Mercer for only two years, he reached the junior year in the literary department.

He was a good speaker, and during his residence in Savannah, where his family lived about five years ago, was a member of the high school debating team, and also of the drum corps of that city.

Besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Carlisle, he is survived by a brother, Douglas, of Macon, and two sisters, Martha and Rose. His father had been at the bedside continuously. Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Douglas, of Macon, are grandparents of the young man. Uncles and aunts surviving him are Miss Alice Douglas, Mrs. T. S. Malone, of Monticello, W. L. Douglas, of Charleston, S. C., formerly of Macon, and R. E. Douglas, of

THE GUMPS—GOBBLE! GOBBLE! GOBBLE!

All important cities and towns in Wisconsin now maintain vocational schools, at which part-time attendance of all employed children between 14 and 17 years of age is compulsory.

In spite of the excellent educational system in France, statistics show that out of a thousand men called into military service during the world war, only 3 per cent could be called well educated.

An Exceptional Business Opportunity

There is now no doubt that the country is on the road to much better times. To those who can correctly read the future, the richest rewards will come. Next year and the years thereafter will be the harvest time of those who venture wisely now.

A well-known Detroit automobile factory, whose product is meeting with rapid sales, is seeking a few additional distributors in several rich territories. Automobile experience is not necessary, but merchandising experience will be considered as a valuable asset. Ample capital and the ability to create a fighting sales organization are the other two major requirements.

Prosperity is a State of Mind

If you will just sit down and deplore the dull times, you need not expect paying results, but if a man will exercise initiative, tact and the determination to go after business, there will be no doubt whatever that dull times with him will be only a hearsay. Of course, he must have some judgment, too, and that is shown when he used nice engraved Christmas Cards.

Call up Ivy 7211 and ask for the city salesman for J. P. Stevens Engraving Company. He will impart to you a few business points that are worth knowing.

WEST END BUILDING LOTS

REMEMBER THAT WHEN WE SELL OUT the Murphy Subdivision, in West End, there will be no more lots at our prices; no one else is going to sell you fine, elevated, shaded building lots, 50x130, for $500 and $600 as we are doing. But we have only a few left, and when these are gone there will not be any more. We found this tract which had been held for thirty years by the Louisville Property Co.; we made a subdivision and decided to offer the lots at half price, so as to close them out quickly, and we have practically sold out the subdivision, but we are letting them go at the old price while they last.

There is absolutely no use in putting off the purchase of a building lot. Everyone who is capable of giving testimony agrees that building lots will be higher in price next year. The lots which we sold in our first subdivision in the early part of this year are now bringing nearly double what we obtained for the lots.
